

on about to be made to Mr Felix L., by the members of the County has been on exhibition for some establishment of the Messrs street. It is a large, massive, r, antique square shape, with eand Gothic handles of an early r engraving is of a rich Barbaric uces a most pleasing effect in ore massive work on the edge. ipleately filled with a beautifully ion of a most suitable character. reflects the greatest credit on hat selected it and on the emi- signed and executed it.

ure in calling attention to the 1 our columns this evening of , delivered on Thursday night, 1 connection with the Protestant ssociation, by the Rev. William , of this city, on a deeply- l important subject, "Some urning Culture." It is some since a lecture was de- the auspices of the associa ve been informed by the General ie has experienced considerable anging a course for the present commencing Thursday evening ill be delivered fortnightly for f the session, and that he has ices of the Rev. J. Low, Canon . Wesley Guard, Dr. R. Atkins, ; Canon O'Brien, Rev. Robert on, and others.

weekly meeting of the Croom rdians on Thursday last, the hat he had much pleasure to an- wo very happy re-unions were ie children of the workhouse ndness and consideration of Mrs House; Mrs Lyons, Croom Castle; Mr Gabbett, Protestant chaplain use. The hall in which the re- l was tastefully decorated, and ery pleasing appearance indeed. sation the children were treated es mentioned to a plentiful supply ranges; &c., and, what was still ted, a quantity of appropriate second occasion the children par- le supply of the "good things" Rev. Mr Gabbett, who subse- ted by Mr Gabbett, junr., ex- schoolroom a series of dissolving he pauper children admired very

Ferrall, Investigator, sat in the FUNERAL OF MRS VANDERKISTE.

The interment of this justly-esteemed lady to k place yesterday morning in the family vault situated within the venerable walls of St Mary's Cathedra'. The attendance was exceedingly large and respectable, and comprehended the re- presentatives of the various county and city families. The funeral service was read by the Very Rev the Dean, assisted by the Ven the Archdeacon. Among those present we observed— Very Rev Dean Bunbury, the Archdeacon of Limerick, Rev W. Seymour, Rev E. Gabbett, Rev A. G. Dann, Rev J. H. Griffiths, Canon Meredyth, Rev J. N. Luther, Major-General Lord Clarina, Captain Croker, D.L; Mr Robert Hunt, J.P; Mr R. H. Massy, Mr C. Vandeleur, Captain Hunt, J.P; Captain Vanderkiste, Mr John Williamson, Munster Bank, Bruff; Mr H. Lyons, D.L; Mr Courtenay Croker, Dr Gelston, Mr John Brady, Mr F. T. Finch, Mr F. St. C. Hobson, County Sub-Sheriff; Mr Henry Waller, Sub-Inspector Wilton, Mr C. Armstrong, Lord Massy, Sir David Roche, Bart; Hon H. Massy, Mr M. E. Murphy, Col Howley, D.L; Mr J. Alexander, Capt T. D. O'Brien, Mr W. Beauchamp, Mr W. L. Hunt, Mr W. R. Croker. J.P; Mr Hampden W. Russell, Mr J. Blackall, solr; Mr John Morton, Mr B. Collett, Mr J. H. Wallace, Mr James Haran, Mr James Harris, Mr Richard Harris, Mr J. Guinane, Mr Michael Sellors, Mr R. Fogarty, Mr H. Blackall, solr; Col Maunsell, J.P; Mr W. Lloyd, Alderman Hogan, Mr J. Casey, Mr Sterling, Mr James Nash, Mr J. Fogarty, Mr A. Hall, J.P; Mr Hartigan. The funeral arrangements were efficiently carried out by Messrs P. M'Carthy and Sons, of George- street.

PROTESTATIONS OF INNOCENCE:

"Veritas" writing from Nenagh to the editor of the Daily Express says:—Many years ago I happened to be in Nenagh, the day of the execu- tion of the two Cormacks, who were hanged for the murder of Ellis, steward to Mr Trant, of Dovea, and who died protesting their innocence, where I chanced to meet an old acquaintance, a Roman Catholic attorney, then on a visit in the neighbourhood. We talked about the execution and the Cormacks' protestation of innocence. In the course of conversation I put this question to my friend: "Do you think any man would go out of this world with a deliberate lie on his lips? His reply was—"I do, and I'll give you my reason for thinking so. I have de- fended prisoners charged with murder, and my invariable practice has been to put this question to the prisoner: 'Are you or are you not guilty? On your reply must depend the line of defence I shall adopt.' I remember being called on to de-

18th December. Ho read, from which it a were employed at Me and that on the day i work, O'Brien was s lever. He accused H with it intentionally. dispute then arose freely exchanged, and it was alleged, shov boiling water, by w arms severely scalded rington's Hospital w fortnight, suffering ceived. Houlihan ne O'Brien did not thr tionally, and the cas

A baker named J with assaulting his i law, and his wife on was ordered to find l haviour for twelve imprisoned for three

A corner boy nar prison for two montl on a man named By

The other cases w Adjourned.

CLARE I (FROM OUR

ENNIS P [Before Mr Purcel Mr T

The Queen at t Bagge against Joi assault on Mrs Elle on the 22nd Decem

Mrs Carmody, ex deposed—I remem O'Connor came into the fire and began wards commenced whereupon I desire to do, calling me him by the shoul seized the beam of struck me on the h from which the blo of which I was con attended by a doct

The defendant o endeavoured to sh her head and the s

Bridget Brenna deposed to the l O'Connor, adding of a candlestick on