The Telegraph's Paris correspondent gives a serious view of the Spanish outbreak. A great number of the officers of rank are at heart in favour of the Republican movement. In Catalonia especially, the insurrection has not been put down; not only have rails been removed, but roads and bridges have been destroyed in several places.

THE APPROACHING PARNELLITE CAMPAIGN.
Great efforts have been made to induce Mr Parnell to visit to the United States in the autumn, but he has definitely declined, pointing out that he cannot leave the Kingdom until after the general election. The hon member for Cork intends during the recess to proceed to Ireland to make arrangements for the for coming general election, which is expected next year. It is intended to have a candidate selected in every con-
