

home to him. He would not give the way or another on the matter. I have not read the report, as I and I will not vote for the resolution.

I state distinctly that the charges are just Cornwall, and that Mr O'Brien in making the statements he did in further discussion, the man said—I don't like to receive the its present form. If you leave it as receive it.

You won't receive it! Gentlemen, those that Mr Solomon Frost leaves and that—Certainly, I will leave it. When he left the chair, and was proceeding to the room, when observed—It only shows that we are a man of that class in the chair, and we are to take the sense of the board. The majority of the board were against it, and I say that you, Mr Frost, had a right to put that resolution to warmly—I have stated my reason to do so, and I have a right to my own opinion as you have, sir.

You have; but when you are in a meeting you have a right to put any resolution to be considered and seconded to the meeting.

I have a right to my own opinion, and as chairman receive any resolution without pronouncing judgment on a man who is not tried for the offence imputed to not be a party to such a thing.

When he then left the room, whereupon the guardians present was called on to vote, but he did not seem disposed to do so, the board broke up, Mr Halpin would not allow the matter to rest
