Information has been received at Canterbury of a sudden death in the harvest field, caused, it is believed, by the intense heat. An old man named Jordan, while at work on a farm at Ickham, was suddenly seized with illness, and in a few moments died.

The Conservative executive in Birmingham have decided to contest most of the wards at the November election. This movement is believed to be in consequence of the desire of Lord Randolph Churehill to obtain some tangible test of the strength of the party in the borough. When a similar experiment was made six years ago all the Conservative candidates were defeated.

OUTDOOR PAINTING.—ECONOMY.—Before undertaking any of the usual spring painting, all who have any out-door work to protect from the weather are recommended to write to Carson's for their new price list and patterns of the Anti-Corrosion Paint. This material is so prepared that it can be applied by ordinary labourers, while in point of durability it far exceeds all other paints in the market. By its use an immense economy can be effected in cost, both in labour and material.—21, Bachelor's Walk, Dublin. June 5
