LIMERICK CHRONICLE.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, JULY 25, 1885.

... which we transfer in extenso from to our columns this evening, on the of "Home Rule at Poor Law Boards," the public on both sides of the some idea of what has been the fatal the pre-eminence attained by the "party," at those local parliaments, inconsiderable proportion of that and merely as initiatory to the greater of hungry patriots at College Green.
The most impression we demonstrated that the laxity of discipline in well-nigh every part of the Limerick Workhouse was the result of the protection afforded the poor by irresponsible guardians, with parently popularity-seeking was every day duty to the public nothing. It may be granted that our local Board is a fair specimen of Irish Poor Law Boards now at present constituted. The evidence before the House of Lords Committee on the "Poor Law Guardians (Ireland) Bill" proves plainly, if we wanted additional proof, that the gentlemen are just as lavish of the poor's money as they are lavish of their own of what has become indefensible. The charges which the Times makes public cannot to arouse the warm indignation of the honest and every patriotic man in the district and it is to be trusted this indignation will subside until measures are adopted by Parliament, which will effectually prevent a repetition of such outrageous breaches of trust in the future. Who can feel sur-

On Thursday the tenants of the property on the estate of the O'Connell minors met the newly-appointed agent, Mr M'Carthy, at Kildysart, Co. Clare, and demanded a reduction of 25 per cent. This being refused, the tenants left without paying any rent.

On Thursday the Shannon Navigation Bill came before Lord Redesdale's Committee as an unopposed scheme, and formal evidence in support of the preamble having been given, the committee stage was passed, and the bill was ordered to be reported for third reading.

The application of the Limerick and Kerry Railway Company against the Waterford and Limerick Railway Company, complaining of the management by the Waterford and Limerick Company, was heard by the Railway Commissioners yesterday, and after full discussion was ordered to stand dismissed with costs.

Yesterday morning a sad case of drowning occurred at Kilrush. A tally clerk named John Byrne, of this city, was going on board a steamship about to proceed to Limerick at the jetty at Kilrush when he slipped from the gangway into the water. Though efforts were made to rescue him they were unavailing, and the unfortunate man was quickly drowned. Deceased leaves a wife and several children.

The rainfall of Tuesday and Wednesday last which was more or less moderate in this district, seems to have assumed the character of an actual waterspout in some of the mountainous districts of Kerry and Cork. At Castleisland between three and four o'clock on Thursday a tremendous waterspout fell on the Cordal mountains.
Immediately afterwards one of those disastrous harvest floods passed down the mountain covering the valley beneath, destroying a great quantity of property. A tremendous downpour also took place at Cappoquin on the same afternoon, doing considerable damage.

The printing of the new Parliamentary Registry, a work of enormous magnitude, is just being completed by Messrs McKern and Sons, George-street. As each division is completed it is forwarded for posting up in its own particular district. This eminent firm has completed the printing of these sheets within a few weeks, time being limited; and to effect this the staff, we understand, had to work by relays day and night. The work is a triumph of beautiful typography, and it need not be said would reflect credit upon any firm in the Kingdom. After having passed through the hands of the revising barrister, the entire registry will have to be again printed in book form, it being at present merely in sheets.
