

the policy of "Nationalism" with power unchecked; that day ever arrive which is to dictatorship of Mr. PARNELL conspirators? No one perusing case of the boycotting of Mrs. Kildysart, can mistake the true "Nationalism," and the true teachings of Mr. DAVITT. Here immediate descendant of an un-Englishman, with her entire household off from outward resources as in a besieged city. Her property to be obtained from Limerick; attending religious service on not free from insult. Only last document was affixed to the bill on all "true Land Leases" in the same gallery with it.

But who are these who are thus inflict condign punishment have been singled out for the vengeance? Let our Carrigaholt whose communication appears in these columns this evening, answer to the petty sessions, held there, a scoundrel, from whom all that wrong had apparently been done, was brought up charged with any. His actual crime was that of the contribution-box, which had been sacrified of the chapel, of its robbery, would have been punished more than an ordinary robbery merely charged with the less. The Constabulary could give no opinion of him; but it was stated that he held a position of considerable importance "position" was, it seems, to ascertain, particularly as the R.I.C., of Carrigaholt, did not conceal its true character. The rates insisting that it should be taken out at length, that the defendant had been secretary to the League, and one of the local institutions. Our correspondent's pertinent observation, "If this had been detected last week, the of the March rent will be reasonably extended, and in cases of necessity a portion of the gale's rent taken on account; also, any tenant, even a leaseholder whom his lordship will be glad should have the benefit of the Land Act, as well as if he were a yearly tenant who makes an application to the court to have a judicial rent fixed, will have returned to him the balance (if any) between the old rent and the new rent provided he pays the March gale in a reasonable time. Further than this his lordship is not disposed to go. Should the tenants be disposed to buy they would come in for an immediate abatement if such be their desire.—I remain, dear sir, yours faithfully, WILLIAM UNIAKKE TOWNSEND."

The funeral of the late Mrs Frost, wife of Mr James Frost, J.P., took place on Sunday last. The cortege left 54 George-street at one o'clock, for the burial ground at Cratloe, where the remains were interred. The Roman Catholic clergy who attended were:—The Rev Mr Conway, Adm.; Rev Joseph Bourke, P.P., Cratloe; Rev Mr O'Dwyer, C.C.; Rev Mr Shanahan, C.C.; Rev Mr O'Shea, C.C.; Rev Patrick Frawley, C.C., Six-mile-bridge; Rev Mr O'Keeffe, S.J.; Rev Mr O'Hanlon, and the Rev T. Bourke. The chief mourners were—Mr James Frost, J.P.; Mr T. Moran, Mr Matthew Kelly, J.P.; Mr J. Cuffe, J.P.; Mr Wm. Kenny, Mr W. Frost, Mr James Kenny, Mr M. J. Kenny, M.P., and Mr W. E. Frost. Amongst those who attended the funeral were—Captain H. Stafford O'Brien, Cratloe; Captain Studdert, R.N., Bunratty; Mr Robert Vere O'Brien, Old Church, Mr Francis Morice, Mr John Hill, Ennis; Mr R. Dawson, Bunratty; Major Walton, Ballysheen; Mr T. O'Gorman, Buncraggy; Mr F. Blood, Ballykelty; Hon Justice O'Brien, Mr G. Gloster, Mr F. Cantillon, Mr Gamaliel Fitzgerald, Mr Arthur Russell, Dr Going, Six-mile-bridge; Mr George Gabbett, Knockanira.

THEATRE ROYAL.

Last evening Mr. H. D. Burton, with a talented company commenced a week's engagement at the Theatre Royal before a large audience. The programme comprised a laughable comedy entitled "Turtle Doves" and an operatic absurdity named "Bears not Beasts." The former proved exceedingly good the many ludicrous characters causing constant laughter. Mr Burton took the part of "Sergeant Terry O'Flanagan," servant to "Captain Lightfoot," (Mr Charles Harley), and his drollery and witty remarks were greatly appreciated. His song "Pat Molloy" cleverly introduced into one of the acts, was well rendered and enthusiastically applauded. "Mr Bartlemay Crowe," a man of statistics, was impersonated by Mr. Frederick Wilmont, who acted the character of the hypocritical scoundrel "Mr Crowe" proved to be, with praiseworthy skill. Miss Alice Hamilton gave an excellent representation of "Miss Kate Denny," an Irish girl of buoyant spirits, and Miss Fisher, as "Miss Emily Fanshaw," and Miss Nelly Hyde, as "Mrs Seymour," were capital. Miss Douglas made a very attractive house-

Misses Delmege, O'Brien, Old Church and the Misses Brown in the shape of flowers were received from Meredyth, Orelands, Sir Croker Barrington Russell, Plassy; Mr Courtenay Croker, C. bally; Mrs Bannatyne, Ballinagarde; Both services, Mattened by large, attendations, that in these that numbers could accommodate. The services shows how popular that our duty to return for His bountiful and more recognised Sunday cannot fail permanent good, in the vast congregation Him whom they for "crowning and goodness." The services were joyfully putting forth the the excellent manipulator Muspratt, the newly greatly appreciated. The service was the "manifold" (Barnby preached in the morning discursive discourse from Lord, O my-soul, and "Fear not, O Land" noon, the preacher before his text Joel ii, of the Lord, the drously with you." pressed upon his gratitude to God for his new we should not alone of harvest, but for things He had bestowed the command contain should not only return lips, but should offer our worldly belongings offertory was on behalf of the National Education Fund. They hurried in the late in the building, but the fund for the purpose portion of the Cathedral not worthy of the Holy length on the necessity for the worship of God in the congregation present object. At the Hallelujah chorus given in excellent style

THE BOYCOTTING

O'Connell
The wrath of the National lady because she demanded which had been demanded