tion, beat up for Protesgher estimate of intelrate wheat from chaff, sible that a representaound, not to say a repreho could be gulled for an ppeals to Irish Conserently been made by Mr. ers of his staff, and in National" newspapers. er,—that is if the "new represents in anywise noiety of the young men tellects, actuated possibly ty-seeking spirits, have by the weak and obvious ains of the "League." test possibility of men fixed principles, of farinvolved in the net-work the sophistry of Messrs. iny would involve their for an instant believe. nswer for the stability of men of Limerick, if we ork; and, though the net ht of the latter not less sight of the former, we own city, at least, it will omewhat amusing to read ment the orators of the were at their last fortublin, seeking with honied estants and Conservatives. aously wondering "that e they had anything to allation of a 'Nationalist s country," Archbishop quite an opposite tune at Blackrock. His Grace. logy he was capable of dents of the college there nd Protestants were " a gers and spoliators" and city.

satisfaction his candidature for a seat in the Town Council, and we hereby pledge ourselves to use all the legitimate means in our power to make his canvass successful. We also tender our warmest thanks to the large number of electors of the Customhouse Ward to represent them in the Corporation, and promised their active support." Mr Gleeson, guild of carpenters, seconded the resolution. Addresses having been delivered by Mr Wm Abraham, Mr John O'Sullivan and others, the resolution was put to the meeting and passed nem. con., and the proceedings concluded with a vote of thanks to the chairman.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE LADY JONES. Lady Jones, wife of General Sir William Jones. K.C.B., Colonel of the 1st Battalion Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry, died at Lansdowne Lodge, Dublin, on the 12th instant. The funeral took place at Mount Jerome Cemetery on Monday, the 16th, and was attended by the officers of the 1st Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry, four of whom officiated as pall-bearers, while the coffin was borne to the grave by six coloursergeants of the regiment, who volunteered their services. Among the mourners were also Capt Tuthill, Lucan; Mr Tuthill, Trinity College; Mr G. Tuthill, Mr Sherrard, General Palmer, C.B.; Colonel Downing, Rev Canon Gubbings, Rev Canon Smith, Mr Hitchcock, Mr Peacock, Dr Little, M.D., &c. On the coffin were choice floral efferings from sympathizing friends, conspicuous among which was a magnificant and the services of the servic spicuous among which was a magnificent wreath sent by the officers of the General's regiment. The service at the grave was conducted by the Rev Canon Smith and the Rev Canon Gubbings. Sir W.Jones's career in the service has been long and distinguished. He entered it in 1825, since which he has taken part in most of our great Indian wars down to the terrible Sepoy mutiny -1856-58—when, at the assault of Delhi, he, as Brigadier in command of the first and second columns, captured the Cabul gate, and successfully held that portion of the city during the six days' fighting which terminated in its final capture. Lady Jones was with her husband in India, and during these memorable days shared his anxieties and many of his hardships. Sir William, for his distinguished service, was created K.C.B., and appointed to the colonelcy of the Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry. This regiment is now quartered in Dublin, and both Sir William and Lady Jones have evinced a most lively interest in everything connected with its welfare. The deceased lady, who was beloved for her gentleness of character and many excellent qualities by all who were ever thrown in contact with her, belonged to an old Irish family, being the daughter of the late John Tuthill, Hsq. of Kilmore House, county Limerick, and sister to the late Mrs Gabbett of Shelbourne, near this were flying in every directi The band of the Riflles hav as possible, at about 9 o'cle final selection, a charming Mr Tyler, into which the ai Hundred Years Ago" an were introduced with most musicians did the piece a conclusion Mr Archibald M of the Young Men's Associa chosen remarks, mentioned ters of the entertainment the inability of the band to programme through the r mentioned above, the bar kindly volunteered to b band they could. He vote of thanks to the band of the King's Roya coming there that evening : pleasant music they had lis the many acts of kindn towards the association wh called for three cheers for th invitation was heartily res "God & ferous cheering. next played amidst muc greeted with another buy Tyler having thanked Mr I his kind remarks, the bal cheering them as they dep In a screened off portion graphs were taken by li light at moderate pr duties of studio bei light at moderate pr duties of studio bei Mr O'Connor, while Mr plied the light. Mr G. lovers of science a trea spectroscope he exhibited, caused much amusement a with his revolving stereos machine and measusing sta Mr T. W. Robinson and Mr patronized. Mr F. P Hool little son, gave some won mesmerism, but many were performance was so success of the superior character of by the "mesmerist" that tribute he possessed. Seve were rendered during the party composed chiefly of Choral Class, Mr W. B. Gib The following pianoforte. highly creditable manner:— "The Miller," "The Ticklin Night." The company dis o'clock. We cannot close o tainment without bestowi man a word of well-des trouble he took in connection zione as hon. secretary. efforts its success, we believe