We perceive by advertisement this evening, that Mr F. W. M'Carthy, auctioneer, will hold his annual sheep sale as well as young stock, on Saturday, 12th September, at the Agricultural Hall, Military-road, and gentlemen desirous of selling rams, ewes, and lambs, etc., would do well to take advantage of this sale.

The magistrates presiding at the City Police Court this morning were Alderman Landers (locum tenens for the Mayor) and Mr Irwin, R.M.
A woman named Bridget M'Cormack was sentenced to three months' imprisonment for drunkenness on the public streets last night, previous convictions having been proved against her.
There was no other case before the court.

Fishing on the Castleconnell waters has not been good during the past fortnight, owing to the lowness of the waters and the extreme brightness of the weather. Trout fishing has been fairly good, and some baskets had by Mr Hugo, St Catherine's, Rathfarnham, Co Dublin; Lieutenant Nugent, Mr J. V. Phelps, Mr George Dowling, Mr Joe Lavertine, Masters O'Grady (2), Mr Walker Mason, &c.

We regret to learn of the death, which occurred this morning at Castle Fergus, of Mr M. Blood Smyth, B.L. The deceased gentleman, who had been for a considerable time in an extremely delicate state of health, was one of the most able conveyancing lawyers practising at the Irish Bar, and as such his loss will be seriously felt. Mr Smyth was brother to the late popular Colonel Blood Smyth, of Fedamore House.

A meeting of the Limerick and Kerry Railway Company, was held in London yesterday at the Westminster Chambers—The Earl of Devon presiding. The chairman stated that the report in its complete form would not be ready to be laid before the shareholders until Monday week, and therefore he moved that they adjourn the meeting till Monday, the 31st August, at 12 o'clock.
This resolution was at once put and agreed to.
The meeting was accordingly adjourned.

St. Mary's Cathedral.—Twelfth Sunday after Trinity.—Mattins 11 o'clock; Venite in B flat, Tallis; Chant for Psalms in A, Norris; Service in F, Berthold Tours; Hymn, No. 312; Communion Service in F, Tours; Preacher, the Very Rev the Dean. Evensong, 3 o'clock.—Chant for Psalms in F, Sir R. Stewart; Service in F, ut supra; Anthem, "O how amiable are Thy dwellings," Ps. lxxxiv, Barnby; Preacher, the Dean; Hymn after sermon, No. 314. Week day services at 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. Monday, 24th, Feast of S. Bartolomew.

The grouse season has been up to the present a most successful one, several shooting parties upon the various preserves throughout the district having recorded capital sport and overflowing game bags. Among those who were among the coverts during the present week, was a party composed of Captain Woodley, of Leeds; Mr J. H.
Payne, Beechwood, county Cork; and Mr Warren (son of Judge Warren), Dublin, who are staying at the Shannon Hotel, Castleconnell, and have had some fine sport in Lord Bloomfield's preserves at the foot of Keeper Mountain.
