in word nor act tried to stop it.

THE MURDER NEAR TIPPERARY.

Yesterday an inquest was held in Shronell National Schoolroom, before Mr. Tobias J.
Morrissey, district coroner, touching the death of Edmund Allen, of Park, Galbally, who was fouly murdered on Saturday evening near the town of Tipperary under circumstances related in our fourth page. Mr P. K. O'Neill, grocer, of Lattin, deposed to finding the body of the dead man which was lying on the road in the watercourse, the hands being quite warm. His watch and knife were in his pocket. Other witnesses proved the finding of the body on the road. The result of the doctors' post mortem examination showed that there were no less than six wounds on the body, five being inflicted by revolver bullets and another by a dagger or some similar weapon. One bullet had passed through the unfortunate man's heart and two through his chest.
The following verdict was found by the jury:—
"That Edmund Allen came by his death at Shronell, the result of gunshot wounds, and that said wounds were wilfully and maliciously inflicted upon him by some person or persons unknown." Shortly after three o'clock the remains were removed to Galbally by the relatives of the deceased, near to which he was interred. The funeral cortege was a large and respectable one.
