

CHICAGO.—The trial concerned in the case upon the police at Chicago was included. The jury decided under the Illinois law that seven years' imprisonment and a fine of $100 were the proper penalty. They found the defendant guilty of the crime, and sentenced him to death, and an appeal was taken since July 15th, much to the regret of the defendant and his friends. The defendant is now in the State Prison at Joliet, and will be executed on the 21st inst. The defendant was received with a feeling of relief, and the doubt that he would be executed was removed. The length of which the issue would be.

A FENCER.—Sarah Jane, a perfectly accomplished fencer. She took a leading part in the fencing recently given in the city, and more than once of the best sword-touched him in the exhibition of parades of which fairly brought her second encounter her own the compliment; she in the third and began by sending the flying out of his hand, him once more, the achieved the victory. Sceptically dispirited to surmise that any counted for something whatever may be to a mastery of fence, her thorough mastery herself. As a man has nothing to envy her.
