at 25 tons of hay, the property of the Limerick Railway Company, was maliciously burned on the lands of the Limerick Railway Company, and compensation from the Grand Jury refused.

That Mr Ulick Bourke, B.L., of the Grand Jury, has given a most generous and liberal act is only in keeping with the policy which has always existed between the family and their tenants.

On the 14th instant asking a resolution passed to "H. M. S.," Post-office, and that the new regulation in that department does not now recognize the initials. Therefore they will be put in the waste basket. If she will use a fictitious name her communication will be attended to.

The proposed railway from Headfort to the Grand Jury was before the Presentment of the Grand Jury of South Dunkerron on Thursday and Friday last, of raising the amount of the rate granted, from £4 per centum, to £5 per centum per annum, at both places readily agreed to, and a guarantee, which was accordingly granted.

HOSPITAL—The annual Grand Ball in support of Barrington's Hospital was held this year, about the last of the month. An influential committee was formed, and they have already been successful in raising funds for the enjoyable event. It is proposed to have a series of entertainments in aid of the valuable institution during the month of December, a programme of which will be published. They will most probably include a variety of tournaments, during the early part of the month.

PHOTODUPLICATION—One of the most interesting curiosities exhibited at the late Limerick Bazaar was an ingenious piece of work by Wm Riordan, formerly an assistant in the Theatre Royal—the copy was written three times in the space of a few lines. We referred to it at the Limerick Bazaar, and are now asked to state that Mr Riordan is now photographing copies of the exhibit, which will be sold by Dublin stationers at the rate of a penny each. Copies of the original should they desire to purchase, should be sent to the Limerick Bazaar, which appears in the centre of a visit-

MUTTON was disposed of at a quality of 4d per lb. There was a fair supply of young cattle, which were on requisition at the following prices—Three year olds sold at from £8 to £9 15s each; secondary kinds £7 to £8 17s 6d; two year olds sold generally at from £5 to £8; year and a half olds and advanced yearlings, which were in no requisition, sold at from £3 to £4; calves, 38s to £2 10s. The strippers on exhibition were of an inferior quality. Good strippers sold at from £7 to £9; secondary kinds sold generally at from £5 to £8; springers were in improved demand, and good class animals met with ready sale at from £9 to £11 each; secondary £6 to £9 10s. Milch cows also met with ready demand, the supply of this class of cattle in market being small. There was no improvement in price, the general quotations being from £7 to £12 each, the latter being the highest figure. The supply of sheep was fair, and the prices recently quoted were maintained. Good hogget ewes and wethers sold at 35s each. Fat sheep sold at from £1 15s to £2 3s each. Bon-hams sold at from 23s to 50s per pair. Very few horses on sale.

DEATH OF LADY CLARINA.

It is with extreme regret we announce the death of Lady Clarina after a comparatively short illness. The sad event took place at Elm Park on Sunday evening last, at half-past seven. The deceased lady is mother of Lieutenant-General Lord Clarina, and daughter of the late Mr Hugh Barton, Straffan, County Kildare. She married the third Lord Clarina in 1828, and died in her 77th year. During the course of a comparatively long life Lady Clarina manifested an unassuming and unobtrusive goodness which endeared her to all classes. Her many excellent qualities in private life, her genial and kindly disposition won the regard of all admitted to her friendship. Her charity to the poor of the district in which she lived was unbounded, and her gifts to the Church in which she worshipped with simple piety Sunday after Sunday were munificent. Lady Clarina's benevolence of disposition, her geniality, and her ready sympathy adorned the high position which she so admirably filled, and her life, prolonged beyond the usual space, was in many respects worthy of our sincere admiration. The memory of this excellent lady will long be cherished with respectful affection by all those residing in the neighbourhood, where she was so well known. The funeral will leave Elm Park on Thursday morning at 11 o'clock for Kilkeedy Church, where the remains will be interred in the family vault.

THE LATE PROTESTANT ORPHAN BAZAAR.

Mrs Edmund Russell desires to return thanks for the following donations to her stall at the Protestant Orphan Bazaar:—Mrs Browning, £1; Miss Browning, £1; Mr Henry Wilkinson, £1; Mr Richard Wilkinson, £1; Mr Robert Hunt, £1; Mrs E Mappier, £1; Mrs Westropp, Quinsboro', £1; Mrs Phelps, Waterpark, £1; Mrs Gurnell, £1; Mrs Bannatyne, Woodstown, £1; Mrs J Phelps, £1; Hon Mrs O'Brien, Old Church, to carry a little bit of Greenpark and Ashbo the level. What was were level gradients, that instead of having &c, Limerick itself a centre, and thus a centre. He thought Limerick feet at spring tides, buting centre. The be for a mile and a quarters in length.

Mr R M'Donnell said Limerick was in a fine harbour without railway systems of Limerick were as good as still in the middle of the dawn of history, that if the line as proposed would double the work of increasing it, as it would the port.

A meeting of the Board was held to-day, also present—Aldermen Messrs T Gaffney, Brown, Michael Keenan, McSweeney, J Clune, and P Riordan, J.

Mr Bryan O'Donnell said that Mr Corbett, city contractor, had ordered five loads of stones where formerly ten were used, and he denied the truth of what was put on the putting down from day. A long discussion which Mr R M'Donnell unexceptionally brought water all over the to the state of the said it was impossible weather. Mr R said that if the city streets, he could not any repairing. Mr O'Donnell to have Adjourned.
