

Court Judges had jurisdiction in cutting it occurred:—"What is just the question I like to answer.—Was it pressure? I decline to answer; I put the question in Sir Michael. You stated the right pressure to bear on landlords who did not give us that statement true? What pressure brought to refused to make abatement. I can give no information at statement true? Yes. What brought a nameless landlord who made no difference was as much in their interests as the tenants. Yes.—Now what brought to bear on a harsh landlord to be in his own interests as regards the interests of the tenants? In the landlord class generally. What was done in the interests of the tenants? Mr. Healy then gave the landlords, asking whether this was applied to them? but the answer led to answer the question. Sir Michael did not con- sider, and as the case is being treated as much more interesting in the pressure on landlords, the police protection, the need of secret circulars may be the Attorney-General was a liberal opinion concerning the matter, and his reply was to the effect of admitting or denying the matter in question, published the answer he was precluded by law from giving. That is quite plain and people can read between the lines.

DEATH OF MRS O'CALLAGHAN.—It is with deep regret we announce the death from bronchitis of Mrs O'Callaghan, second daughter of the late Robert Westropp, of Fortane, Co Clare, and wife of the late George O'Callaghan, of Maryfort. The deceased lady during her life was endeared to a large circle of friends by her amiable disposition and goodness of heart, by whom her loss is sincerely deplored. She had reached the ripe age of eighty-six years in the full possession of all her faculties. The remains will be removed from Eden Terrace on Monday the 10th inst, at 9.30 o'clock, for interment in the family vault at Tulla, Co Clare, via Sixmile Bridge and Kilkishen.

THE ALLEGED MURDER NEAR TRALEE—An inquest was held yesterday near Tralee on the body of the woman Elizabeth Julian, who is alleged to have been killed by her brother Christopher Julian, caretaker in the employment of Mr S M Hussey. The evidence went to show that the prisoner and the deceased who were of drunken habits were in Tralee on Wednesday, and on the way home with their police escort the prisoner severely assaulted the woman and threw her off a car. The medical evidence was to the effect that death resulted from apoplexy induced by violence. The jury found that the deceased met her death by violent assaults inflicted by the prisoner.

THE DOCK WARD.—Mr James O'Mara has been returned unopposed as Town Councillor for the Dock Ward, his opponent Mr William Bassett, having retired. In communicating this fact to Mr O'Mara he states that "acting upon the earnest solicitations of some friends and taking into consideration the prominent civic position, which as High Sheriff you now occupy, I have come to the conclusion not to oppose you further in your worthy desire, as an old and respected citizen, to represent the Dock Ward." CONDITION OF THE
TO THE EDITOR OF THE
SIR,—The ex-Mayor, joking, surely he did not mean the eyes of the citizenry, the virtue of seeing every thing in relation to which it stood—roads are fairly kept." I do not want to indulge in a state of the streets, but I wish, sir, in a little session. The query is, are we here going to put up with a disgraceful condition of Limerick, and what towards a remedy?" by their actions, have all Home Rulers. I think in this case will make a difference to the business capacity of those who, unlike the present, have autonomy for Ireland.

THE KILMALLOCK
TO THE EDITOR OF THE
SIR,—I have read the letters in your recent issue by "Probono Publicus" Gibson. From my knowledge of the first meeting of the committee tending the first meeting the object of establishing a factory, I believe "Probono Publicus" quite correct. What was paid a higher price for the factory," may be that near four pound butter now, though in June for about half. The statements prove that it is an advantage to the farmers if properly worked by dairy farmers. What (as it sometimes does) inducing many to leave from midsummer, and the result may be a staff without sufficient men, or some person in the trade, would work in Kilmallock, &c, and bring cream all the year round. I have no doubt of its success, all. I am fortified in my opinion by the Hospital factories and difficulties through the want of directors, and the etc, and being, I believe established in Ireland for a year at a profit, and which the shareholders are going to raise a capital
