EXTRAORDINARY CONDUCT IN CORK THEATRE.— At the Cork police office yesterday, before the Mayor, a sworn investigation was held into the conduct on the previous night of a number of gentlemen occupying a stage-box at the theatre, owing to which the performance had to be stopped and the offenders expelled by the police from the theatre. From the evidence it appeared that the party had engaged the box from the County Club. Their conduct throughout the performance was extremely bad, and when remonstrated with one replied that he was "a county magistrate," while another said that there were "four magistrates" amongst the party. All were, it was alleged, under the influence of drink. One man, when
