my privilege this morning to a secrety, I shert I can speak with confidence to you. It we from what the Society for St Vincent De I is.—I whave felt it is great and holy lety for many, many years, and I have seen its throughout all those parts of the world ere it has been my lot to be, and wherever I and this society established I find not only a late loving, practical Christians, but also ody holy, leving, practical Christians, but also ource of charity which extends its advantages dits goods all round. I have seen the Society St Vincent De Paul even among barbarous tions, savages so to say, those who had not tattained a high degree of civilization yet ey feel the necessity of making emselves members of that society. The vages, in a relative sense of the word, they experience the great good and the great lessings that are impacted by that society, and ence they felt the great desire to be members f your order. This, dear gentlemen, shows to ou the great appreciation that men have had f this seciety; it shows also that this society of it Vincent de Paul is not a local Society—no ne may say it is a universal society which goes tep by step following the progress of our coly religion. Wherever our holy religion exists—wherever our holy religion spreads its peneficent influence—there also you see rising up the Society of St Vincent de Paul because they represent that charity which is the best characteristic of our holy religion. It is sufficient to say that the Society of St Vincent de Paul is a work of charity, a work of beneficence, and the work of fraternal societies, and, dear gentlemen, we know that there are many other places where the people have shown a desire to be members of this society but for many reasons the society has not there been yet established. There, I know, the desire exists, and the desire grows stronger every day, because of the knowledge of a great good that this society may do. Dear brethren, I know that the Society of St Vincent de Paul not only is established in the great city of Limerick but that your society presents a most flourishing appearance; that it has for its members the best portion of the population of Limerick, and that it does not confine its duties to the work which is imposed on the society, but extends its beneficent influence to other societies. The President has just mentioned that in the reception which was just mentioned that in the reception which was given to me on my arrival—in that big, I may say gigantic, crowd which I found awaiting me in Limerick the members of your society were represented in numbers, if not in the large majority, which implies that it was the first move and the seal of that manifestation. Having referred to the large gathering in the Redemptorist Church last night, his Excellency continued—And hence, dear gentlemen, I must appreciate the great work of the Society of St Vincent, because I find that in all these good movements, in all these gatherings which represent the bulk of the Catholic population of Limerick you take a prominent if not a principal part. I have, dear gentlemen, to congratulate his Lordship the Bishop, to congratulate the clergy, to congratulate the whole Catholic population of Limerick on possessing in this city a Society of St Vincent de Paul. But I must also thank you for all those good expressions in your address—for all those fine expressions directed to our Holy Father the Pope. All those words are expressions I know which come from the heart, because I know the heart of Ireland, the heart of every Irish Catholic beats and beats sincerely for our Holy Father the Pope (applause). Your manifestation then is eminently a Catholic manifestation which goes to the heart of a Catholic Bishop; it is most touching, most editions the catholic beautiful to the catholic beautif fying, most creditable to you, and most creditable to the City of Limerick, and most creditable to Catholic Ireland. It is then, my dear gentle-men, my duty, and a most pleasing one it is, to e express my heartfelt thanks, not only for the good, but I must say creditable reception you [r]gave my arrival in Limerick, but for the mani-1devotion of respect and  $\mathbf{of}$ festation ٠V testation of respect and of devotion to the Holy See, which you have repeatedly expressed in words and also in your deeds. May God prosper this city, and may God prosper Treland; may the Society of St Vincent de Paul not only be prosper and flourishing the applied for many :h perous and flourishing, be enabled for many many years and many generations to impart the ame good and the same blessing which it is im-

Benediction. Amidst the strams or some national airs, rendered sweetly by the bank, his Excellency drove back to Cruise's Hotel. Monigner Persico will preach to morrow at St. Jehn's Cathodral, where, he doubt, a goodly number will attend to hear the distinguished visitor.

THE LATE MR. PIERCE POWER.

The tentains of this deeply langented gentleman were intered yesterday migrating ill Ale Innily vault, Mount St Laurence Cemelery. The funeral cortege was exceedingly large and reorgentative testifying to the great popularity of the deceased and the respect in which he was regarded by all classes and creeds in the community. The coffin was of massive on the thick brids mountings, and hore the inscription—"Pierce Power, died Sist August, 1887, aged 32 years, R.I.P.E. It was strewn over with handsome wreaths and by many leving friends. Shortly state inte Felock the coffin was horn from the deceased g ntleman's house to the hearss by six statwar, members of the Linerick Beat Club, of which Mr Power had long been a member, and following the hier was a long line of pedestrians. The shief mourners were—Mr Richard Power, J.P., father; Mr John F Power, T.C., Br. Prower, involvers; and Dr O'Shanghnessy J.P. The electry present were—Very Rev Dr Moloney, P.F. VG, Rev J O'Shea, Adm, Father O'Keffe, S.J., Father Kelly, Fathers Hallisan, and Mulcaby. Amongst the general public were—The Mayor, Mr A.O Wallace, Town Clerk, Mr Delaney, George-street; Mr Golden, Manager Munated and Cwalleds, Town Delourey, solr; Mr R Harris, Mr H Sterling, Mr Johnson, Mr H O'Shea, Mr J Welson, Mr J P P McNiamara, Mr Reardon, V.S. Mr G M Rowland, Drs T Gelston and Malone, M.O Gelston, Messra J and T Ewark, Mr V Hunt, Mr F A Turnell, Mr F Thurnell, Mr B Cobern, Mr N B Copply, Mr B Chokeffe, Mr Bodiston, Messra J and T Ewark, Mr V Hunt, Mr F A Furnell, Mr K C Baker, Mr Doyle, solr; Mr B Plunnmer, Mr Goodwin, Mr N B Copply, Mr J O'Donnell. Mr Alphonsus O'Keeffe, Mr Bedkin, Mr W B Colovett, Mr W B Colovett, Mr W B Colovett, Mr W S Colovett, Mr W S Colovett, Mr N R Cortett, Mr P Hogan, Mr Wn S Colovett, Mr Mr Nach, and Substeried Mr Michael O'Gorman, Mr J Mash, P; Mr K Nach, and run J J Mr M Downsus, Solicitor; Mr J Ryan, solicitor; Mr Hosan, Mr Wh S Colovett, Mr R Cortett, Mr P Hogan, Mr Wh S Colovett, Mr R Nosh, solr; Mr J Anglim, J P; Mr M R Andsew Mucray, Mr Bane, Mr J Anges Front, J P; Mr B Man were interred yesterday morning in the family vault, Mount St Laurence Cemelery. The funeral cortege was exceedingly large and representative

Rowing Club also attended.

Those who sent carriages included Mr Power, Mr Ryan, JP, Thomas street Mr O'Regan, Mr B O'Donnell, Mr Architedd, Marray, junr; Mr M'Carthy, Dr T Gelston, Mr Enright, Castle-connell; Mr Robert Hunt, JF; Mr Ioran, Cannock and Co, Mr J Quin, JR; Mr Quin, Mr Manahan, Mr Tidmarsh, Mr Francis M'Carthy, auctioneer; Mr J Harris, Mr W S Cox, E; Mr T M Cregan, JP; Mr T E O'Brien, J. L.; Mr W J O'Donnell, Mr J O'Mara, Jr P D Bourke, Mr Leonard, Mr Riordan, Mr Fi hn, Cr ise's Hotel; Mr Wm Boyd, JP; Mr Michiel Ha tigan, auctioneer; Mr R Byan, Mr Le, Mr J M'Donnell, JP; Mr Green, Greenmounts Mr H Imes, Athlunkard; Mr Grimes, Woodfield; Mr Baker, &c.

The Rev Dr Moloney conducted the burial service.

Messrs P M'Carthy and Sons had charge of the funeral arrangements.

THE I A Kil prepara country Ballycol addition Donis to from Lip a conflict

THE The Cr Liondon a Flushing. from Thu the Non Sutzfeld Port Vic daughter proceed w

MR GL

A Ren Gladstone letter in f the follow The Duke attacks I into confl edifying s or excuse fairly wha League, a alone, þut manner, a call the de sion of Lo the Govern law."

HOOT When c Dublin ti received a crowd loud however, cellency, proceeding

THE

Bonnie Windy Cygnel Also Pau Phillipe, C nite. Betting-Windy, 11 Thing, 8 to Jacob Pizzare Dochar Eleven te Dochart.

a head; th