The band is spoken of in the highest terms by the Press, the Belfast Morning News, for instance, stating that the performance was "simply marvellous, and can only be accounted for by the perfect mastery which each member has over his instrument." We are quite certain the engagement will prove an irresistible attraction. For particulars see our advertising columns.

ADJOURNED PETTY SESSIONS.—Mr J B Irwin, R M, and Alderman Myles were the presiding magistrates at the City Adjourned Petty Sessions to-day. A number of cases of drunkenness were disposed of on the usual fines. Sergeant Duncan charged Bridget Cassidy with drunkenness and disorderly conduct in John-street. The sergeant stated that a few previous charges were recorded against the accused, who, generally speaking, was of a quiet turn of mind, "except when she takes drink;" "but," the sergeant somewhat unexpectedly added, "that is nearly every Saturday night." Fined 10s and costs, with the usual alternative. Mr Irwin remarked that there were more women charged with drunkenness than men. Thomas Ryan was charged with wilfully and violently kicking a donkey on the 1st inst. Fined 5s and costs.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE MR W. R. CROKER, J.P. ALSTON.—The remains of the above lamented gentleman were interred in the family vault, Croom, this morning. A large number of the gentry, etc, attended or sent their carriages, amongst them we noticed—Sir D V Roche, Carass; Mr A W Shaw, J P; Mr J R Kelly, D L, Islandmore; Mr F Green, Greenmount; Captain Croker, D L, Grange; Mr L P Filgate, J P, Grange Hill; Mr R Blennerhasett, Rockfield; Colonel Massy Westropp, Attyflynn; Mr R Westropp, Springfort; Mr Geo Furnell, Abbey View; Mr H Johnstone, Croom; Mr R H Johnstone, Croom; Mr E White, Fort Ethna; Mr P Carroll, Croom, Mr P Kearney, Croom; Mr Geo Gloster, Parteen; Mr P Hartigan, Clorane; Mr Thomas Conway, Croom; Rev E Gabbett, Croom. Messrs P M'Carthy and Son were the undertakers.

LONGEVITY IN CLARE—That Longevity is not at all so uncommon as some people imagine, is shown by the fact that the deaths of quite a large number of persons who have by a large span passed the scriptural three score and ten are recorded in our county, and we have ourselves seen people of both sexes whose statements of their great ages were manifestly corroborated by their patriarchial appearance. There is at present connected with a small post office in West Clare a woman who is 103 years of age, and is still able to move about freely, and do minor household work, and a correspondent in a contemporary says he has spoken with a man caring cattle on the height above Kilkee, and wearing no cover-
