IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—Madame Worth’s Celebrated Guinea Corsets (black, 25s) may be obtained from her Local Agents, Messrs Cannock and Co (Limited), Limerick. (Dec 10)

Mr Posnett, Local Government Board Arbitrator, held an inquiry at the County Courthouse to-day concerning the value of land proposed to be taken for labourers’ cottages in the Limerick Union.

Alderman Myles attended at the City Police Court yesterday morning, but there were no cases for disposal. There was no magistrate in attendance this morning, and no charge on the list for hearing.

Colonel Maunsell, J P, presided at the County Petty Sessions to-day. The Sarsfield Football Club summoned a young man named Patrick Deegan for cutting up a football, their property. On the application of the defendant, the case was adjourned to enable him to issue cross summonses for assault.

PROMENADE CONCERTS AT THE ATHENÆUM.—
The next of these popular concerts will be held in the Athenæum on Saturday. A very attractive programme is being prepared for the occasion. Mr Charles Inglefield will sing, and some well-known lady amateurs will play the violin and piano. A very large audience may be expected.

DEATH FROM EPILEPSY—INQUEST.—An old woman named Mary M’Grath, who was admitted to the workhouse a couple of months ago, was suddenly seized on Monday night with an epileptic fit, and died early on Tuesday morning. Mr Coroner Cleary held an inquest at the workhouse on yesterday morning, shortly after 12 o’clock. A respectable jury having been sworn, a verdict to the effect that deceased died suddenly during an epileptic fit, was returned.

MOVEMENTS OF TROOPS.

The 2nd battalion Leinster Regiment which has been stationed in this garrison for some two years, left this mornng for Queenstown, there to embark for England. The regiment, in charge of Lieut-Colonel Campbell, marched out of the barracks between four and five o’clock this morning, and proceeded to the station by Boherbudy, their splendid band playing inspiring airs en route. A very large concourse of civilians assembled at the station to bid the Leinsters good-bye, and this fact alone spoke volumes for their popularity. The greater portion of the corps left by special at 6.15, the balance proceeding by the ordinary passenger train which steamed out half an hour or so later. On the departure of both trains the soldiers were loudly cheered, and they as spiritedly acknowledged the compliment. At the last train a very sad accident occurred. While the train was in motion a young man named Barry, residing in the Irishtown, ran along the platform loudly cheered. He said—My friend, I thank you most heartily for the ovation which you have accorded to me as a criminal as I am (no, no). I can do no more than thank you, and we would have blood shed if we were not satisfied—and besides there is an account of which I cannot speak here to-day (A Voice—). But I will tell you that when I was in the months ago I am to-day, and will be an Irishman and a general—(cheers)—and ready to take the field—(cheers)—for the cause of justice and religion. I will leave this hotel along with my country friends, and I will accompany me towards Herbertstown and in the meantime I request you to disperse and give no opportunity to the bludgeon men—(groans)—to be and thus in their own peculiar way to bring about peace. I thank you once more for the ovation. I will remember it and will struggle and fight the more for Ireland (cheers).

Addresses were then presented by Mr Ryan. The first was from the Club.

Mr O’Neill read the following address to the Very Dear Father.—We, the members of the Gaelic Athletic Club of Boherbudy, congratulate you on your release from prison to which the minions of the Tory Government have consigned you. We rejoice to see you once more free and at liberty, in whose cause you have laboured, as well as in defence of the helpless victims of rack-rent and oppression. Your noble advocacy of these rights and sacrifices to obtain justice for the oppressed and rack-rented of your country has won for you the admiration of the world. We beg to assure you of our admiration of your courage and only at your last trial, but you were bearded in his own court by Mr Boyd. We have known you an early life, for we were among the first to flock to you, and it is with pleasure we see you not only to your sterling qualities, but also to your zeal, learning and a true type of the Soggarth ar that you may be spared long to the cause of our own dear land and to lead many into justice. A token of our unbounded admiration and sacrifices, and of our most sincere desire for your release from prison, we beg of you to accept of this accompanying ‘cup,’ won by our field as Gaels, as a token of our happiness on this happy occasion.—Signed on behalf of the Hurling Club, Wm O’Connor, Secretary; Thos Corbett, Treasurer. Mr Ryan replied as follows.—I and my friends of the Boher Gaelic Athletic Club are very sincerely indeed for this which I accept in the spirit in which it is presented to me. This cup earned by your courage and energy in the hurling field is a great honour to me, I also accept with thanks the address you say you were and
