

...the offence. From his high position in the parish and the language he used, which was of the greatest criminality, it was their painful duty to inflict a sentence of four months' imprisonment on him.

Mr Blake gave notice of appeal, and asked to measure the amount of the securities.

Bail of £100, and Mr O'Hea, M.P., and Father Lucy in £50 each as securities were measured.

Father M'Carthy was cheered on leaving court. The reverend gentleman was subsequently presented with an address by the Clonakilty Board of Guardians, to which Father M'Carthy responded.

The publichouses were closed all day by special order of the magistrates, and all is now tranquil. All the police and officers drafted into town left in the evening.

SENTENCE ON MR JOHN POWELL.

At Birr, yesterday, Mr John Powell, editor of the Midland Tribune and Tipperary Sentinel, was sentenced to three months' imprisonment with hard labour, under the Crimes Act, for publishing an article intimidating tenants. The defendant said the farce of a trial need not have been enacted, as he knew that the sentence was cut and dried. The magistrates described this as a gross contempt of court, and sentenced Mr Powell to a further term of seven days. The original sentence was appealed from, but for the contempt defendant was sent to Tullamore Jail.
