

ers and letters of credit able, and communications addressed to THE MANAGER
LIMERICK

CK CHRONICLE.

NING, OCT. 1, 1889.

For some time past that the not been content with the pleas to him in reward for furthering the reform of the seen substantial benefits the farmer at the expense of the benefits taking the solid labourers do not forget that the desire to "forward the movement through thick and never for one moment hesitate with the agitation."
In recent years has been held yesterday near Kildysaid that their devotion movement has been in the stated. They might have firm that without the pre-of the large masses of meetings would have been indeed. Knowing, then, done for the furthering of but reasonable to expect the spoil should fall to others should remember that that they have got to the the action of the Poor-Law in blocking the working in several Unions in Clare strong protest from the eastern section of that to urge the farmers with aims to consideration and with ignoring their

Mrs A. W. Shaw has returned to Roxborough.

Miss Vickers has arrived at 37, George street.

The Lord Bishop will hold a Confirmation in the Tralee Parish Church on Wednesday next, 2nd October, at 11.30 a.m.

SHIPPING.—The s.s. "Hypatia," with a cargo of 2,900 tons of grain, consigned to Messrs J. Bannatyne and Sons, has arrived in dock. Another largest steamer, the "Feldrige," is also discharging a cargo of corn.

The Army and Navy Gazette announces that Lieutenant-Colonel R. Parsons has applied to retire from command of the 2nd Battalion, Worcestershire Regiment, stationed in this city, but it is not yet known how the step will be given.

We are informed by the Rector, the Rev Chancellor Gough Gubbins, that Divine Service will be discontinued during the winter months in Knocknagaul Church (Roxboro), to be resumed (D.V.) at the usual time in the ensuing year.

A man named Michael Curry, who had his leg fractured while coming home from the races on Monday week died at Barrington's Hospital yesterday. How the accident occurred is not known, but it is supposed the poor man was rolled over by a car.

An inquest was held by Mr Coroner DeCourcy yesterday touching the death of Mary Shanahan, aged 64 years. Deceased lived in Carey's Road, and went to bed in her usual health on Sunday night. She was found dead on the following morning. A verdict of death from natural causes was returned.

"The Age We Live In," raffled at Messrs Guy and Co's 114 George street, was won by ticket No. 144 Mr Daniel Roughan, Clarecastle, Co. Clare. Drawn in the presence of Messrs A. J. Eakins, 114 George street; Thomas Hayes, Nelson street; Stephen Malone, 11 Boherbuoy; T. A. McNamara, 31 Nelson street.

We are requested to inform the parishioners through our columns, that there will be a Harvest Thanksgiving Service, in Kilpeacon Church on Sunday, October 6th, 1889, at 11.30 o'clock. Preacher—The Rev Canon O'Brien. The collection after the sermon will be in aid of the Church Missionary Society.

The Bicycle Road Race in connection with the

SERIOUS CHARGE AGAINST ACCOUNTANT

ALLEGED EXTENSIVE EMBEZZLEMENT

At the Police Court, this morning, Mr T. Ryan, presiding, and Mr Robert J. Gubbins, accountant, Messrs Evans and Co., George street, were in custody, having been arrested and charged with embezzling various sums of money in the years 1888 and 1889, to the detriment of the creditors of Mr Cleeve, owner of the business.

Mr Connolly, solicitor, appeared on behalf of Messrs Evans and Co., and Mr Doyle, solicitor, appeared for Mr Cleeve. Mr Connolly stated the case. He said it was the duty of the defendant to receive money paid into the receipts from a block book kept by the clerk, and in the evening to enter the name of the person who paid the money, and in the evening to enter the name of the clerk, whose duty it was to enter the name of the clerk in the book, from which it was transferred to the ledger, to enter the name of the defendant in the cash-book in the ledger for receiving the accounts recently rendered. Several sums of money had been received from the defendant which were not accounted for in the ledger several accounts had been received from creditors, but had never been entered in the ledger or paid to the cash-clerk. Twenty accounts examined and defalcations in them was about present they could not ascertain the defalcations, as there were to be yet examined. He said that Mr Cleeve, the owner of the business, was the best person to know the result of his statement.

Mr Cleeve was then sworn and he said that on investigating the accounts he discovered that several sums of money had been received by the defendant and not entered in the ledger. These sums had been received at the office. In some cases the money received was credited to the account while a larger sum had been received from the debtor in the ledger.

Mr Doyle said he appeared for Mr Cleeve. There may have been some error in the accounts, which he would not say, but there was no criminality in the part of the defendant in the transaction.

Mr Connolly—Mr Doyle is a misapprehension. There has been