The house is most comfortable and fit for the reception of a gentleman's family. The Lands, which are well watered, contain 60 Acres Plantation Measure, and with the exception of a small portion under green crops, are all in grass. There is an excellent walled-in Kitchen Garden, and the offices, which are extensive, are in first-class order.
Immediate possession can be given.

DIARY OF SIR WALTER SCOTT.—It is a bit of pleasant news to learn (says the Globe) that at last Sir Walter Scott's diary is to be published in full. Lockhart was quite too scrupulous about hurting the feelings of The Wizard's contemporaries, or it would have seen the light long ago, and no harm would have been done. "Such passages as are quoted in the famous Life have the deepest possible interest, and Scott was too kindly and charitable a man to say anything really nasty about anybody, even though his provocation to do so was greater than that of most."

Amongst the passengers on board the Cunard Royal Mail steamer Umbria, which called at Queenstown yesterday, from Liverpool, on her way to New York, were:—Sir Sidney H. Water-low and Lady Waterlow, Sir Donald Smith, and Mr and Mrs H. Villiers Stuart. Mr and Mrs Stuart embarked at Queenstown.
