ADJOURNED PETTY SESSIONS.—THIS DAY.
 (Before Mr Z. Myles, Dr O'Shaughnessy, and Mr M. Lenihan.)

A young man named Franklin, a mason, and his wife were charged with assaulting a woman named Mrs Hinchy, and unlawfully and wilfully damaging her house on Saturday night. Mr Counihan, solicitor, appeared for the complainant, and Mr Hastings, solicitor, for the defence.

Complainant deposed to seeing the defendants throwing stones at her door. Franklin's wife and her mother were in her (complaint's) yard. Both of them were drunk, and the mother was so bad
