PROTESTANT YOUNG MEN'S SOCIETY.—Last evening the class had the privilege of hearing Mr. Bennis's lecture on "The Protestant Young Men's Society," of which subject he is certainly a very competent speaker. Two gentlemen were subjected to a most interesting and valuable inspection, and their various views were explained graphically. Mr. Bennis has a great gift of combining instruction with pleasure, which greatly enhances the pleasure of the lecture. The lecture occupied the whole of the evening, the following taking part in the discussion—Mr. Mercer, Professor of Music, to whom Mr. Bennis replied. The lecture will be held on Friday evening, when the Rev Mr. Robertson will deliver a most interesting and moral excellence.

Mr. Irwin has had a brilliant career as an accompanist, as shown by his numerous critiques in the American press, which are all unanimous in their highest compliment to his ability, the Mayor, for instance, remarking that "Irish music is marked by a depth of delicacy of taste which brings us to the genius of Irish music." Mr. Irwin says that in the musical circles of the Continent "he enjoys an enviable reputation as a pianist." Further extracts

AFFAIRS IN TIPPERARY.

On Thursday evening at the weekly meeting of the City branch of the National League—the Mayor presiding—Mr. James Gill, C.E., who is superintending the erection of the houses in Tipperary for the evicted tenants, solicited the co-operation of the members in securing the quick despatch of a supply of materials from Limerick, principally a large quantity of bricks as some difficulties had been experienced in getting them promptly despatched.
