at Westminster. Mrs Peel had been ill for several weeks. The progress of the disease baffled medical skill, so that for the past few days the hope of her recovery had been abandoned. On Thursday night it was evident that life could not last many hours, and the family gathered around her bedside. Archdeacon Farrar was present in the sick chamber, and the Speaker watched until the end. The interment is expected to take place at Sandy, Bedfordshire, the Speaker's country residence.
