quired to place these people in an almost affluent position, and if the Board as a body could not do anything; he would second the Mayor's suggestion that those gentlemen who had not subscribed should do so now.

The Chairman said they had a very full board to-day, and they knew the necessity of doing everything in the most perfect order. They to a member of the board whom he had not seen there for a long time, and who for many a long day was associated with him in the working of this trust—he referred to Mr Tinsley—a resolution to the effect that where any question of money was involved no action should be taken without notice of motion. He was quite certain that the case as brought forward and supported by the Mayor and Alderman Counihan would certainly carry with it the sympathies of the board very much, and he thought he anticipated a very favourable answer; but they would excuse him, and would not believe it was from a want of interest in these people, when he said that they should adhere strictly to the excellent and wholesome rule to which he had referred.

Alderman Counihan—that won't prevent us from doing anything individually.

Chairman—I was just going to add that the is no reason why the members of the board should not come forward in their individual capacity and help those who had lost their little homes.

Mr O'Donnell was certain the citizens at large were not aware of the sufferings of these people.
It was necessary that something should be done without delay.

Mr Harris—Will you give notice of motion?
Mr O'Donnell was understood to say he would.
The Chairman and several other members handed in subscriptions, which were received by the Mayor.

"DEAR MR. HARRIS—I have received your letter informing me that the Harbour Commissioners have unanimously granted me an annuity of £100 during my life in consideration of the services rendered by my dear husband, and as a mark of respect to his memory. I can only say that I am deeply grateful and fully appreciate the compliment paid to his unfailing devotion to the interests of your Board.

"Will you convey my sincere thanks to the Board, and also to the proposer, Mr S. O'Mara, and seconder, Mr W. Spillane.

"I remain, Dear Mr Harris, your very sincerely, ELLEN HALL."

ELECTION OF ENGINEER.

The Secretary said that the evening after the Committee had met he received an application for the position of engineer, and the question was, would the Board receive it?

Ald Riordan—I thought it was ruled at the last meeting that the list was closed.

Mr Harris—Yes, all applications were to be sent in before 12 o'clock on Thursday, and this came in after the time and after the meeting.

Chairman—I think under the circumstances we had better adhere to the spirit of the rule.
Do you approve of the suggestion of the Committee with reference to the mode of election?
