The Sister Superior (Convent of Our Lady of Mercy, Cahir, Tipperary), writes:—"Convents do not, generally, give testimonials, as Nuns do not care to put forward their opinions, but I cannot refuse to give you my opinion of your SALT REGAL. The Sisters have found it a very pleasant medicine; it has been very efficacious in cases of sick headache, and I found it a quick and safe remedy in cases of sudden sickness amongst the school children, who, on a few occasions, took the SALT REGAL as a pleasant drink, and became quite bright after it."
