rendering of the same beautiful composition at our late Reunion. Miss Gertrude Wills played the accompaniments, with one or two exceptions, when Dr. Haydn and Mr Francis Hartigan gave valuable help. In conclusion, our last Reunion of this session was both pleasant and profitable; and we are happy to be able to announce that a closing full-dress Concert will, it is hoped, be held in the Courthouse early in May; and that the Rev. Dr. Haydn has, at Canon Wills' special request, kindly consented to conduct it. To state this is simply to foreshadow its triumphant success.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE MR. WILLIAM HEFFERNAN.

The funeral of the late Mr William Heffernan, a well-known and highly-esteemed member of the local Press, took place yesterday morning. The cortege, which was large and representative, left 3, Lord Edward Terrace, Roxboro' Road, at nine o'clock, for Mount St Lawrence Cemetery. A great many friends attended from a considerable distance to pay a last mark of respect to Mr Heffernan's memory, and to join with numbers of the citizens in expressing sympathy with his wife and young family in the great affliction with which it has pleased Providence to visit them. The remains were enclosed in a massive oak coffin, which was strewn with beautiful wreaths and immortelles, presented by the staff of the Limerick Leader, of which Mr Heffernan had been a member; also by the literary and commercial departments of the Limerick Chronicle, as well as other intimate friends of the deceased gentleman. The chief mourners were—Mr C. Heffernan, Kanturk, father of the deceased; Mr Joseph Heffernan, do, brother; Mr Maurice Aherne, Ballintubber, Kanturk; Mr Thomas O'Leary, Mr Michael Singleton, Kanturk, and Mr Wm. Lenihan Buttevant. Amongst those also present were—Fathers O'Donnell, Griffin, and Ryan, the Mayor, the City High Sheriff, Mr F. A. O'Keeffe, M.P.; Mr M. J. Keatinge, and Mr M. Hayes, Limerick Leader; Mr W. J. Howell, Mr J. A. Baldwin, Mr S. J. Bradley, Limerick Chronicle; Mr P. T. Dunne, Cork Herald; Mr Z. Myles, J.P.; Alderman S. O'Mara, Mr John G. Fitzgerald, Mr Michael O'Grady, Mr B. Cashell, Mr Michael Coughlan, Mr J. Guinane, J.P.; Mr D. Begloy, T.C.; Mr James Flynn, Cruise's Hotel; Mr T. M'Carthy, Mr E. Troy, Mr A. C. Wallace, Town Clerk; Mr D. Cremin, Mr J. J. Mulqueen, Mr E. Garvey, Mr Hugh Coyle, Mr P. Nunan, Mr Wm. Phelan, Mr P. Gleeson, Mr Edward M'Carthy, Mr James Forrest, City High Constable; Mr Thomas Hayes, Mr T. O'Farrell (G.S. and W.R.), Mr J. Humphries (G.P.O.), Mr T. Murphy, Mr P. J. Hehir, Mr T. C. Hehir, Mr John Moloney, Mr John O'Donnell, Mr T. Hartigan, George Hotel; Mr Jeremiah Galvin, Mr M. O'Halloran Lawlor, Mr P. Egan, Mr H. Watson, Mr E. Richardson, Mr J. Morrissey, Mr E. J. Reddan, Mr T. MacDonagh, Mr J. F. Quinn, Mr J. Sheahan, Mr M. O'Donoghue, Mr M. MacDonagh, Mr J. MacCormac, &c.

At a meeting of the City Branch of the National League held on Thursday night last—Mr. F. A. O'Keeffe, M.P., presiding—Mr. Bourke said he had a painful duty to perform, and that was to ask the chairman to adjourn the meeting as a mark of respect to a gentleman they all knew. He alluded to the late Mr. Heffernan. There were none of them who met him but had to say of him he was always most amiable and courteous, and they had lost a very good friend. Mr. Stewart said he had great pleasure in seconding that resolution. He had met Mr. Heffernan in public for the last three years, and always found him most courteous, intelligent, and agreeable. He had always done the arduous work placed upon him well and effectively. Referring to a notice of motion standing in his name, he asked that the chairman to consider it as adjourned till this night week. The Chairman in adjourning the meeting said it was with sincere regret he learned of the death of Mr. Heffernan. He met him on countless occasions, and always found him most attentive and courteous. He begged to tender on behalf of this branch their sincere sympathy and condolence to his wife and family. The meeting then adjourned.

IMITATING CIVIL BILL FORMS.—At the Quarter Sessions yesterday, before the Chairman, Judge Purcell, Q.C., Mr Connolly, solicitor, called his lordship's attention to a practice which seemed to have come into operation lately, and which, in his opinion, was a gross contempt of Court. He referred to the imitation of the form of a civil Paris, Saturday.

This morning's newspapers are unanimous in condemning the action of the Italian Government in expelling several foreign journalists from Italy. M. Lavalette, one of the two French journalists expelled, was correspondent of the Haas Agency exclusively, and did not, as has been stated, act also for the Paris Figaro.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The young woman who was shot by a Belgian called Guidon, at Hotel de L'Europe, in Leicester Square, London, is still lying unconscious to-day at Charing Cross Hospital, and her recovery is considered doubtful.

ENNIS PETTY SESSIONS—FRIDAY, (FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT).

The weekly court was held to-day after a fortnight's adjournment. The magistrates on the bench were—Mr F. G. Hodder, R.M. (in the chair), Mr John W. Scott, and Mr Thomas O'Gorman.
The cases heard, though numerous, were not of importance.
Martin Hanrahan and John Nealon were brought forward at the suit of Head-constable O'Halloran, charged with being two of a party, who on Patrick's Day, violently assaulted a man named Roughan, in the yard of a publichouse in Ennis, for which offence two men named Mooney and Wall, were prosecuted a month since, and sentenced to fine and imprisonment. Several witnesses were examined by the Head-constable, and cross-examined by Mr Thomas Lyndh, solr., for defendants.
After a long investigation the case against Hanrahan was dismissed, and Nealon was fined 15s and costs.
Michael Russell, for using obscene language in the streets, was fined 10s or a fortnight's im-
