

when it was sold to Mr John Harty, of High Park, at that price and auction fees. Messrs Dundon and Doyle, Solicitors, had carriage of sale.

SALE OF BALLINARD FAHM, HERBERTSTOWN.

In our advertising columns we give particulars of this sale to be held by Mr Wm. B. Fitt, auctioneer, on next Saturday, Feb. 14th, at the Sale-rooms, 46 George street, Limerick, for Mrs Wm Bresnahan. The holding contains 27½ Irish acres, rent, £70, together with the residence and out-offices. The quality of the land cannot be excelled, and is without doubt a most suitable and desirable farm for any person wanting one of a moderate size. On same day Mr Fitt will dispose of the tenant's interest in the farm of Cleunana, containing 12½ Irish acres, rent £21 11s 10d.

KILLALOE EAST CLERICAL SOCIETY.—The monthly meeting of this society was held in the Lecture Hall, Nenagh, on Thursday, the 29th ult., the Rev Chancellor O'Sullivan presiding. There were present—Revs. Henry Fry, Henry Wakeham, Fred S. Samuels, Francis J. Costello, Samuel Hyde, William J. Franklin, Keogh Kempstone, William F. Fitzgerald, James J. Walker, and Alexander Thomas, hon. secretary. The portion of Scripture considered was Romans i. 19-21, after which a thoughtful paper was read by Rev Samuel Hyde on the "Intermediate State," which gave rise to an animated and profitable discussion. The next clerical meeting will be held (D.V.) on Thursday, the 30th April, 1891, at 12.30 p.m.

DEATH OF MR. GEORGE KIELY.—His many friends in this city will learn with much regret of the unexpected demise of Mr George Kiely, of the Munster and Leinster Bank, which took place late on Thursday night in Dublin, where he had arrived but a few days previously for medical advice. It does not appear that Mr Kiely had long been in ill-health. The deceased gentleman had been for some three years connected with the Limerick branch of the Bank, and enjoyed the acquaintance of a very large circle of friends. He was of a frank and genial disposition, and a great lover of music, and in several concerts here he took an active part. For the past year and a half he had been located at Bruff, Co. Limerick.

DREADFULLY SUDDEN DEATH.—A dreadfully sudden death occurred yesterday evening in Mulgrave street. A woman named Catherine Lyons, whose residence is in Walshe's Range, where she carried on some trading on a small scale, left her place apparently in her usual health with the object of transacting some business. She was returning home when she was observed to fall. Assistance was at once summoned, but it was found that life was extinct, the poor woman having succumbed without uttering a word. The city coroner was communicated with by the police, but stated that the case was outside his jurisdiction. Head Constable Phelan had intelligence of the occurrence conveyed to Dr Cleary, coroner for the county, but under the circumstances it was not considered necessary to hold an inquest, death being due to heart disease.

THE IRISH HOME INDUSTRIES ASSOCIATION AND WOMEN'S WORK.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE LIMERICK CHRONICLE. SIR,—In reading your report of the late meeting of the newly-formed branch of the Irish Industrial League here, I notice that Mr E. Gibson gave an account of a knitting industry carried on by Miss Levers at Sixmile-Bridge, and in connection with this industry, suggested that a Ladies Committee of the League should be organized to take up women's work. Allow me to state that this would not be desirable, as the "Irish the programme, was nicely interpreted by Miss McCarthy, Miss Nono, Mr Gaffney, and Mr Marks, though the tenor part might have been better. Mrs Poole made her second appearance in "Going to Market," to which her cultured voice did ample justice. One of the best songs of the evening was "At Eventide," by Mrs Fogerty, who was in excellent voice, and whose version of this rather difficult song elicited a hearty encore. In reply, she gave a very expressive interpretation of "The Better Land." A very pretty duet was "Violets," by Miss Birdie McCarthy and Miss Marie Nono, whose voices blended most effectively. Miss S. M'Kern's pure and well-trained voice was admirably suited to "A Lark's Flight," a new song by Moir, and the executant, one of the most popular of our lady amateurs, gained the entire sympathy of the house. Mr J. P. Gaffney gave a telling rendering of the "Yeoman's Wedding" song, and led to respond to an encore by repeating the last verse. A pretty trio, "Don't tickle me I pray," was sung with verve by Miss Nono, Messrs Marks, and Gaffney, and this concluded the programme. The members of the Limerick Athletic Club are to be congratulated on the success of their efforts. It might be invidious to single out any member of the executive for special mention, but we cannot help referring to the hard working secretary, Mr S. McAdam, who discharged his very arduous duties with the most satisfactory results. Several members of the club acted as stewards, and it is gratifying that, in so crowded a house, there was no confusion or annoyance experienced in connection with seats.

CAPTURE OF A SEAL AT LISCANNOR.

A few days since Constable Condon, who is a splendid marksman, saw a short distance from the shore near his station at Liscannor a large seal, having its head well over the water. He brought out his rifle, and taking good aim struck the seal a little above the eye. He floundered about in the water for some time, and then made out to sea about four miles, bleeding all the while. Three canoes followed—two with two men in each, the third having three men—all well supplied with ropes and a gaff. They rowed manfully, breasting the waves, the sea running very high at the time; so much so that their friends, who now had collected in large numbers on shore, felt alarmed for their safety. However, the brave fellows—fishermen of Liscannor—succeeded in overtaking the seal, which was all the time rolling over and under the water with great loss of blood. They stuck the gaff into him, but no use—he made off with it as if it were only a table fork; but at last, becoming weaker and weaker from loss of blood, they threw ropes round him, and, turning their canoes towards the shore, to the delight of their friends, hauled the big seal after them. They have secured a quantity of oil, but the skin, which, of course, is valuable, has been made a present by the constable to his officer, Mr Otter, D.I. Ennistymon. A collection to which the officer will contribute liberally is to be made for the fishermen who risked their lives and displayed such pluck and courage in capturing the fine seal—the largest ever seen on this coast.—Con.

LIMERICK LAND SUB-COMMISSION.

JUDGMENTS.

KILMALLOCK UNION.

Judgments given at Newcastle West on Friday, 6th February, 1891, in cases heard at Kilmallock in January, '91, before Commissioners Green, Haughton, and O'Shaughnessy:—

Tenant.	Old Rent.	Judcl. Rent.
	£ s d	£ s d
Patrick Condon	39 8 8	12 0 0
Thomas Harbigan	20 0 0	14 0 0
Martin Grady	272 5 0	150 0 0
Daniel Malony	39 15 8	28 10 0

ship was not Limerick rat and all was consent to g best in the y "I suppose the theory o "Oh, I b theory at th I have been morning I h and in the a accompanist SIR ARTH Mr O'Mar thusias ab hearsal a we had conduc should make had done. a very long t that is only. "Whenev O'Mara rem stage he qui singer."

It was not of his first I that he cou dreams," he rows of criti His dread, h discounted l qualities of

IRISH GAA

A meeting Association days since, Also presen dert, J P; J P; W F C Junr O'Call junr Capt O'C which were and explain Several gen county sub- of Messrs O'Callaghan Chairman Westropp w tary respect bye-laws sh being submi assizes.

RD

The forty Board was Buildings, presiding, J. Gabbett, Daniel Clan Mr H. J. and Mr Jos

The Clerl ing officer, v and they fo bish and de Coonagh sic O'Brien, yil he (the cler dangerous point abutt If they cou the owners not know w Brown, agei his attentil they could were in the he would t Gelston su