The sailing vessel "Dumbane" has arrived in port from Falmouth with one thousand tons of grain for Messrs Bannatyne. The vessel took the long period of fourteen days to make the passage, owing to the bad weather which prevailed.

LEAMY'S SCHOOL.—The results of the recent South Kensington Examinations have been returned to the Local Secretary as follows: Mathematics, First Class, Masters Nicolls, O'Neill, Pike; Second Class, Masters Eiddell, Gleason, Griffith, Hanna, Myles T, Myles C, Robertson, and Miss Shier; Advanced Stage, Master Sullivan; Mechanics, Masters Sullivan, Eiddell, and Robertson.

MEDICAL.—Dr Thomas W. Myles, of Howth, Co. Dublin, son of Alderman Myles, J.P., of Limerick, has been appointed by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty to be Surgeon and Agent in the care of H.M. Coastguards stationed at Baldoye, Howth, and Sutton, Co. Dublin. Dr Myles has also been appointed by the Inspector General to be Medical Attendant to the Royal Irish Constabulary stationed at Howth and Baldoye, Co. Dublin.

ST. MARY'S CATHEDRAL.—6th Sept, Fifteenth Sunday after Trinity—Matins, 11.30 o'clock; Venite, Turlin F; Chant, Langdon in F; Service, Hatton in C; Hymn, No 112; Communion Service, Hatton in C; Preacher, the Rev H. M. Joseph, M.A., of Antigua. Sermon in aid of the S.P.G. Offertory at both services in support of the funds of the society. Evensong, 8.30 o'clock—Chant, Woodward in B flat, Rogers in E flat; Service, Muspratt in C; Anthem, "In that Day" (Elvey); Hymn, No 106; Preacher, the Rev H. M. Joseph, M.A.

MR JOSEPH O'MARA.—This young gentleman has arrived in town from London after his successful performance of "Ivanhoe," in which character his fine execution, and the excellent quality of his voice, won for him most favourable opinions of the London Press. Mr O'Mara is taking a short holiday previous to appearing again in "Ivanhoe," which will run alternately during the winter, with a new opera, "La Basoche," by Massenet, in which he will take the leading tenor part. Mr O'Mara is daily engaged in rehearsals with his old friend and master, Mr John F. Murray.

ENNIS FAIR.—The Ennis half-yearly fair was held on Thursday. The supply was small, and there was a meagre attendance of buyers. Business, as a consequence, was dull. Beef of best quality averaged about 57s cwt, while inferior quality from about 45s to 48s. Calves fetched from 23 to 25; yearlings 28 to 29; two year olds, 29 to 31; and three year olds 31 to 34. Springers, which were scarce, were in brisk demand, selling up to 32l, according to age and quality. Sheep ranged from 40s to 50s; berwick sold at 50s, and bacon pigs 48s per cwt. Nearly all were purchased by Limerick and Ennis buyers.

THE RUAN MURDER.—Some time since a private court of inquiry under the Crimes Act was held at Corofin by Mr Horne, E.M., into the circumstances of the murder of the old man John M'Namara, at Kilkoe, Ruan, in the month of June of last year. Several witnesses were examined, and the proceedings lasted for a considerable period, but without any tangible result as far as the detection of the perpetrators of the foul crime was concerned. The matter, however, has been revived this week by the arrest of a son of the murdered man, Peter M'Namara, by Mr Dunning, D.I., on a charge of wilful and corrupt perjury on the occasion. He has been remanded to Petty Sessions.

FISHING AT CASTLECONNELL.—Owing to the excessive rain we have had for some weeks past the river is now very high, and though fish are seen rising in plenty they are rather difficult to tempt with the fly.—On the Doonass fishery Capt Vansittart got on August 28th, one salmon, 17lbs. Mr H. Hodges on the same fishery, August 31st, one peal, 8lbs; Sept 2nd, one peal, 3lbs, 3rd, one peal, 6lbs. Mr H. Hodges on the Hermitage water, Sept 1st, two peal, 6 and 8lbs; 2nd, one peal, 5lbs; 3rd, three peal, 5, 7, 6lbs. Mr J. Taylor got on the Prospect fishery August

FUNERAL OF THE LATE MR. M. SELLORS, SOLICITOR.

The funeral of this lamented gentleman who died on Wednesday at St. Albans, took place to-day. The remains arrived here from Dublin a little before two o'clock, the train having been some twenty minutes late, and were met by a large number of the citizens desirous of paying a last mark of respect to Mr Sellors memory. The massive oak coffin was conveyed from the van to a hearse in waiting, and the cortege proceeded to St Munchin's where the interment took place. The chief mourners were—Mr E. M. THE NATIONAL FEDERATION.

The usual weekly meeting of the Limerick Branch of the National Federation was held last evening in the Council Chamber, Town Hall, Mr David Begley, T.C., occupied the chair, and the attendance was pretty large.

The Chairman, in opening the proceedings, alluded to the parliamentary revision. He saw that applications was made for over a thousand names of their nationalist friends to be put on the Franchise, and he hoped they would be successful in carrying out that object. He also observed that Mr Parnell's paid agents had made applications for about the same number. They expected, however, that three-fourths of the names proposed in Mr Parnell's behalf would vote for the cause of Ireland, which was their cause, against the selfishness, or the insane or mad pretensions of any man. It was sad to see the use which Mr Parnell and his party were making of the amnesty question. These sham political meetings got up in the cause of the political prisoners, were simply a delusion or mockery, and no more, and to his mind such meetings would only militate against the unfortunate men in prison, such as John Daly and his companion, and Mr Parnell, he was sure, had not the interests of these prisoners at heart when he got up these meetings. They were simply organised to blow the horn of Parnellism and make political capital out of them. They had seen by the report of the Phoenix Park meeting on Sunday where two respectable men, followers of Mr Parnell, who innocently called for a cheer for Dillon and O'Brien, were set upon and savagely assaulted, their car broken, and he believed their lives would have been taken only for the intervention of the police. That was the sort of ruffianism that they might expect from Parnellite, and he believed it would have been continued in Limerick only they (the Federationists) showed that they intended to give blow for blow. It was a shame and a disgrace that the names of Messrs Dillon and O'Brien should be hissed at any meeting of Irishmen. He believed if the name of Balfour were mentioned at any of the Parnellite meetings throughout the country it would be received with respect, and to his mind the object of Mr Parnell and his party was to see if by creating mischief throughout the country they could get Mr Balfour to pay their expenses at the coming election. In conclusion he said the self-sufficing and efforts of Messrs Dillon, Davitt, and O'Brien were written in the hearts and minds of the vast majority of the Irish people, and these men were looked upon by them as the finest characters ever produced by this or any other country (applause).

Mr D Cramin proposed—"That we emphatically protest against the shameful manner by which Mr Parnell seeks to make political capital out of the sufferings of the political prisoners; and we call the attention of all true Nationalists to the fact that he ignored them, and refused to take up their case until it suited his own purpose."

Mr Clifford seconded the resolution.

The High Sheriff, Mr P. E. Bourke, in supporting the resolution, said if these men's sufferings could not be relieved without the indecent conduct that was carried on at the Phoenix Park on last Sunday, he would venture to say that the majority of those men would rather remain in prison than that such conduct should be carried on in their name. From what he had heard of John Daly, it seemed to him that he would be the first to repudiate the mean, contemptible, conduct perpetrated in the Phoenix Park, as being connected in any way with his name. It was a well-known fact, and there was no getting over that fact, that the prime mover for the last few years in trying to obtain an inquiry into the prison treatment of these two men, Daly and Egan, was Mr Wm O'Brien (hear, hear), and it had come out now for the first time that the information on which Mr O'Brien was acting, was first of all, very properly sent by Alderman Manton, of Birmingham, to Mr Parnell. But, it was absolutely ignored by him, and he did not even acknowledge the letter. It was when he could not get an answer from the "only possible," as they called him, that Alderman Manton put the matter into the hands of the men, whose sympathies, he would venture to say, were as far from dynamitards as those of Mr Parnell, or any other constitutional leader; but at the same time whose sympathies were always sure to be enlisted on behalf of anyone suffering in the cause of Ireland (applause). He believed Mr O'Brien
