ASSAULT.—The Ballyneety Petty

 O'Connell; Mr G. J. Minchin, and Mr John Morgan Ryan was put forward in the charge of having assaulted a man named Quirk in Mr Brown's public Ballyneety on the 9th inst. Mr O'Connell, Limerick, defended the accused.
 From the evidence given that Ryan was fighting with another man, when Quirk and Ryan turned on him and gave him a blow on the abdomen, for which he was treated in the County Hospital, and since then has been in the County Hospital. He was sentenced to a month's imprisonment.

CLOTHING.—With our issue this week we enclose as a supplement an illustration in reference to the above. As you will see it contains most euglogistic opinions regarding journals in the United Kingmonial which have appeared in our columns from time to time from the leading gentlemen in the county. At the foot of the circular list of names of the principal purchasers of the many hundreds of people who bought this admirable material from Mr O'Connell. We have received a copy of the list issued by the Company, which contains illustrations of the various garments in gentlemen's underwear, and we would like to see any of our readers who have not as yet had the pleasure to peruse this list, which can be had on application to the local agent, C.

DEATH OF MR. WILLIAM STEELE STUDDERT, J.P.

We regret to announce the death of an old and highly esteemed county gentleman, Mr William Steele Studdert, J.P., who passed away this morning at his residence, Keeper View, O'Brien's Bridge, in the 73rd year of his age. The sad information will be heard of with surprise and with deep regret by his numerous friends, as a few weeks ago Mr Studdert appeared to be in his usual vigorous health, and in fact had been only a week or so unwell. Mr Studdert was very popular with his neighbours, and in Limerick was a conspicuous figure. As a member of the Limerick Board of Guardians, with which he had been connected for very many years, Mr Studdert had long since proved himself a most useful and painstaking guardian. Up to some years ago, and to a certain extent latterly, he took the liveliest interest in the affairs of the Union, making frequent visits to the house on his own account, and the slightest irregularity could not escape his vigilant eye. Often when many matters of great importance were discussed at the Board, Mr Studdert would "cross swords" with his brother guardians, and though his opinions might be quite at variance with those of many members, still they were respected, and no one could gainsay the fact that his motives were actuated in the public interest and for the good of the institution. His letters to the Local Government Board often brought down on him a certain amount of censure on the part of the guardians for not having in the first instance sent in his complaints to them, but still his communications were so elaborately written, and contained such a variety of details, the result of patient and diligent inquiry, that they were never dismissed in the cursory manner that complaints sometimes are at public Boards. Mr Studdert held his own opinions about discipline and workhouse management, on which he was certainly a great authority, by reason of his long service as a Guardian, and he was fearless in the expression of his utterances, and cared nothing either for censure or praise so long as he had done what he had considered his duty. His presence at the Limerick Board, though he had not been a frequent attendant of late, will long be missed and his demise will be deeply lamented by all who knew him. Mr Studdert possessed a very genial and happy manner, which won for him a host of friends in this city and throughout the county Clare, who recognised his manly and straightforward qualities and his unvarying courtesy. Mr Studdert was a Conservative of the old school.
 He was a member of the Diocesan Synod of Killaloe. The funeral will leave on Monday, at eleven o'clock, for the family burial place at O'Brien's Bridge.

FUNERAL OF MR. ROBERT COX.

On Wednesday last the remains of this deeply-lamented gentleman were interred in the family vault, Ballingarry. Amongst those who were present we observed the following:—Mr Robert Cox, Ballynamona (uncle); Mr Wm. Bennett, Gleneafy; Croom; Mr William Sullivan, Mr James Welply, Limerick; Rev. J. Adderley, Rev.
 J. Dowd, Rev. R. Kirby, P.P., Ballyagra; Mr T.

GREAT MUNSTER FAIR.

SECOND DAY.

The cattle and sheep fair was held yesterday It was a beautiful summer's morning, and from an early hour things were astir at the Green where there was an unusually large and very fine bovine display. Still, it was rather a dull fair, fact which causes no surprise, as for some time past the cattle trade has been depressed owing to keenness of foreign competition, and to the slack-ness of the demand in England. It is explained in this way, that some few years ago the restocking of vacant farms in England created a great demand for Irish cattle, and raised them to an abnormally high value. This demand has now very considerably decreased, for the reason that the supplies are not required for the purposes mentioned, and the consequence is that there is now a very large quantity of cattle in this county and the markets are supplied to a greater extent than the requirements of buyers necessitate.
 Prices showed a reduction of £1 per head, compared with the Munster Fair of twelve months ago. There were several splendid bunches of fat cattle on view, and in some cases fat bullocks went up to £23 a head. The quotations may be summed up as follows:—One year olds, from £4 to £7 10s; two year olds from £8 to £12; three year old heifers, from £2 to £17; do bullocks, from £12 to £18; fat cows £12 to £17; fat heifers and bullocks, from £2 to £23. There was an average supply of sheep the prices ranging from 30s to 43s. Buyers tended from Cork, Waterford, Kildare, Tralee, Drogheda, Belfast, and other centres. The following is the official return of stock paying at the fair, which, of course, does not represent the lot, particularly horses, brought into the city—Horses, 120; cattle, 3,110; sheep, 1,33 pigs, and bonhams, 1,724.

EVICIONS AT BODYKE.

THE SHERIFF AND POLICE FIRED

A desperate occurrence, which fortunately unattended with any loss of life, took place yesterday at Bodyke, a locality which has made itself famous "for all time" by the extraordinary eviction campaign of 1887, and the very exciting scenes which were enacted in search of weather, such as we do not often experience in this country. The circumstances of the campaign are quite fresh in the memory of the public, and they need no recapitulation here. It is sufficient to say that for some time back rumours have been in the air of further complications between Col. O'Callaghan and his tenantry. It is stated that Mr M'Adams the agent, held a rent office at Ennis a few weeks ago, at which many of the tenants attended, but being informed that the usual reductions could not be continued, a number of the tenants declined to pay their rents, and returned home. Yesterday morning Capt Croker, Sub-Sheriff, accompanied by 30 police under the command of District Inspector Fee of Tulla, proceeded to Lisbarren, a townland of the Bodyke property, for the purpose of carry-out the eviction of Edmond Malone. There was no opposition of any sort, and about a dozen people who were working in the fields came to witness the scene through apparent curiosity. The
