 since his arrival, and is obviously enjoying the freedom of the life in the open air. As of yore, he generally lunches in the 'Park,' and dines on the Kursaal terrace; of the many pleasant parties there, I may be allowed to mention the one last night, when the Prince's guests included Mr.
 Chauncey Depew, Mr Toole, Mr S. L. Clemens ('Mark Twain,' who came over from Neuheim for the purpose), Sir Charles Hall, and Mr Atkinson, Q.C., ex-Solicitor-General for Ireland."
