

THE LIMERICK CHRONICLE, SATURDAY

eral. Ever courteous and obliging, he found at his post when required, for himself the highest respect of duty. He gave proof of his business getting the corporate business discharging the arrears that had existed months previous to his election owing to the project tending to the benefit of the Mayor's best support; he had an efficient Fire Brigade, the want made the city a bye-word, and in every way he took the warmest interest. As well in harness—an appropriate example being a great sportsman, he will not be disturbed, and that he will gratefully acknowledge his election to the public by re-electing him as Mayor for Hastings' time will come, and we are surprised to see him on some future day occupying the Mayoral chair, so ably expected father many years ago.

The Glin School Board is held in issue consequent on pressure on

Limerick Stag-hounds will meet on next, 22nd inst, at Fedamore, at 12

Painted screen to be drawn for at stall at the Protestant Orphan School won by Miss A Ievers, Castle St, No. 40.

To state that the Annual Sermons in Church Missionary Society will be Trinity Church on Sunday next by Rev G. G. M. A., at morning service, ending by the Rev W J Haire, B. A.

And that a concert will take place at School, St Mary's Cathedral, at 8 o'clock on Tuesday, November 25th, to provide some necessaries for the Boys Band. Tickets, 1s, reserved; 1s, to be had at McKern and Sons.

Resting to hear, says a London coroner Sir John Hibbert to-day that extension Railway will probably be effected in January, and that the whole including the stations and telegraph will be thoroughly completed by the

GYMNASTIC CLASS CONCERT.—We draw attention to the admirable pro-

DEATH OF MR PATRICK S CLERY.

Deep regret was expressed in town to-day at the announcement of the unexpected death of Mr Patrick S Clery, third son of Mr M J Clery, J. J. Chairman of Cannock and Company, Limited, which took place yesterday at the residence of his father, Moorfields, Dundrum. The young gentleman recently contracted an attack of rheumatic fever which his system was unable to withstand, and he passed away to the inexpressible grief of his very many friends. He was a student of Trinity College, where he had successfully reached Junior Sophister standing, and gave promise of a very bright career. His intention was to follow the medical profession. Deceased was only in his 23rd year, and his death following only five months after that of his brother, the late Mr F W Clery, makes it additionally sad, and the greatest sympathy is tendered to his bereaved father. The funeral will take place on Monday next at 11 o'clock from Limerick Terminus on the arrival of the mail from Dublin.

DEATH OF A LIMERICK LADY IN LIVERPOOL.

Her many friends in Limerick city and county, where she was so widely known, will deeply regret to read the announcement of the death of Mrs Annie Allbutt, wife of the Deputy Head Constable of Liverpool, which took place on the 16th instant. Mrs Allbutt, who was only in her 31st year, was better known as Miss Blood-Smythe, daughter of the late Colonel Blood-Smythe, of Fedamore, County Limerick. She had been seriously ill for some time past, so that her demise was not unexpected. Mrs Allbutt was a splendid horsewoman, and her knowledge of everything pertaining to hunting, riding, and driving was admirably put together in a little book entitled "Hints to Horsewomen" which we, at a comparatively recent date, reviewed in these columns. It will thus be seen that while she devoted much of her time to sport, she was also a lady of considerable literary ability, and valuable contributions from her pen regularly appeared in book form, as well as in the Magazines. Mr Allbutt made her acquaintance while holding an important District-Inspectorship of the Royal Irish Constabulary, prior to his appointment to his present position in Liverpool. We deeply sympathise with him, as well as Mrs Blood-Smythe and family, in their bereavement.

MISS MARY HOURIGAN'S CONCERT.

Our advertising columns contain the announcement that Miss Mary Hourigan will give a Full Dress Concert in the Theatre Royal on Monday evening, 27th instant, to enable her to complete her musical training, it being her intention, we believe, to join the lyric stage. Miss Hourigan has frequently appeared in public in this her native city, and won

THE MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS.

Yesterday afternoon the Mayor's Town Clerk's Office from two to four the purpose of hearing objections to the nomination papers for the four contested municipal wards. Mr P S Connolly, Law Adviser present, Mr J H Moran, solicitor, representing the Parnellite candidates, and Mr M M for the Federation candidates.

In the Castle Ward, Mr William E. Loring, councillor, objected to Mr P C nomination paper, on the grounds that assenting burgesses had not signed. The matter was investigated, and the two papers were declared in conformity with the statute.

In the Customhouse Ward, Mr M objected to Mr John O'Donnell's nomination paper, on the grounds that the name of the person in which the vacancy occurred was not in it.

After a discussion, this point was held good.

Mr M Coy objected to Mr Richard's nomination paper, inasmuch as his name was not set out on it at full. He quoted out the subject.

Considerable discussion ensued, and suggested that both objections should be overruled and the election fought on the merits.

This course was agreed to at both sides. Mr Connolly said with regard to the nomination paper, the candidate had just intimated that he intended to withdraw from the election. Mr Moran objected. A candidate nominated could only withdraw by so doing in writing on the Town Clerk before the day of nomination. Mr Griffin served this notice.

The objection was overruled.

[Mr Griffin and Mr O'Donnell were the Federation candidates for the ward.]

Mr Moran objected to Mr O'Donnell's nomination paper on the ground that it was signed by a Jesuit. Of course the Mayor could not decide as his court was not an election tribunal. He merely made the objection for the necessary, of having the matter tested by the Court of Queen's Bench.

In the Abbey Ward, where the objection was between Mr James Gilligan (P), an assenting burgess, and Mr Kivlehan (F), outgoing Councillor.

Mr Moran objected to Mr Kivlehan's nomination paper, on the ground that Mr McDonnell, as assenting burgess, had himself as No 129 on the burgess list, and his number was 121. Mr Moran quoted on the point, and it will be remembered that the assenting burgess Mr Gilligan was not a burgess.

Mr Connolly, Law Adviser, on being asked to give it as settled law that the objection raised by Mr Kivlehan's nomination paper was fatal to Mr Kivlehan's nomination, is the settled law