ECCLESIASTICAL GAZETTE.

Canon Courtney Moore, M.A., Rector of St. John, County Cork, has accepted the editorship of The Irish Ecclesiastical Gazette, edited by the Rev. Dr. Carr. Canon Moore has for several years a frequent contributor to The Gazette, The Spectator, and other papers. He will be assisted by the same staff of writers and correspondents who have contributed so much to our old and well-known contemporary for nearly forty years established.

Dr Reichel, Bishop of Meath, as President of the Province, will preside at the Synod of the Diocese of Meath, on Tuesday, December 5th, summoned by the Bishop of Armagh in accordance with the laws of the Church of Ireland, ch. vi.

The Gazette announces that the Queen has appointed Colonel the Hon William James Hamilton her Majesty's Minister of Ceremonial in the room of Major-General Sir James Hamilton. The Queen has conferred the Companion of the Bath upon Mr Mackenzie, Q.C.

Mr. P. speaking at the Eleusis last night, said we were asked to contribute a million pounds more on ships of war. We should have a navy fit for the occasion. They must not be led at as being raised into reckless folly on ships, he hoped we never would see. Massacreing the Matabele committed for the benefit of greedy speculators, with a couple of hired dukes at the head, was a disgrace to the name of this country.

THE NORTH WALL.—Last evening James Darcy was conveyed to the hospital, suffering from severe injuries sustained while working on the North Wall, belonging to the Clyde Shipbuilding Co. A log of timber between seven feet fell on him. He was attended by Surgeon-General Magee, and the resident drive. Also for sale 2 Phaetons, Harness, and Saddle. Can be seen at India Villa, Corbally.
