

the Constitution
ations made for ces of the country.
appear to have lost
rushed to arms, and
dulging in wanton
They seem to
law and order, and
rities are unable to
s. Americans have
at deal of liberty.
d these only in the
e therefore had to
and are too much
use of the revolver.
rible uproar like the
w police and soldiers
get together are not
nfuriated opponents.
ie rifle, but the mob
the revolver. There
or repressing disorder.
horities have actually
y may run the mail
tion, but that if they
r trains with the help
ill "wipe them out."
d on that city, but the
up earthworks, behind
ched themselves with
for the arrival of the turn are prepared with ne guns. How peace
is impossible to guess
out of hand, and are as
d as those the authori-
m.

announced to deliver a Newcastle West, where made to give him a

re the lightest held here
ed last evening, and the orning for Tralee, being tation by the City and
and the customary escort

esterday, before Mr J B rns, who was arrested by past four that morning
y petty sessions, charged named John Walsh on June.

Show of the Royal Hor-
Ireland held on Lord ourt street, Dublin, in the one variety, stand of 12
was won by Mr S B Quin, Limerick.

sked what was the origin
hich was given to Lord
d ill-fated yacht. The e famed in Norse myth-
Odin, who, clad in helmet fishermen. The deceased had been temporarily engaged at the Militia Barrack carrying out cooking arrangements, and on Thursday evening he left after doing his work and appeared in his usual good health. It would appear that he was seen round town afterwards by some parties, but nothing is known as to how he came by his fate. His cap and stick were found in Bedford row next morning, and on Sunday a belt stated to have been his was picked up by fishermen. The body when found was clothed in uniform which contained the deceased's watch and chain. There were no marks of violence, and the belief is that the poor fellow fell into the river through accident. He had 13 years service, was a man of fine physique, unmarried, and of good character. He was respected by all his comrades in the regiment. An inquest will be held to-morrow.

DROWNING ACCIDENT AT CASTLE-CONNELL.

A very sad boating accident, resulting in the death of a young man named Myers, occurred at Castleconnell on Saturday evening about five o'clock. Deceased with two others named Hickey and M'Mahon was proceeding down the river in an angling cot, and when near the World's End one of the parties got what appeared to be a foul stroke, and as a result the boat capsized, throwing the occupants into the water. Mr John Enright, of the Shannon Hotel, noticed the occurrence, and rushed to a place where there was a small punt and a larger boat. The punt was fortunately unlocked, but there was neither oar nor paddle in it. Mr Enright, however, nothing daunted, seized the rudder of the other boat and used it as a paddle. Owing to a high wind he found great difficulty and, indeed, danger in getting near the capsized men, but he succeeded in picking up one of them named Hickey and got him into the punt, which was half full of water. He got him ashore, and the boat which had capsized, drifted ashore with the second man clinging on to it, but the third man, Myers, as already stated, was drowned. He had only been recently married, and great sympathy is felt for his young widow in her affliction.

A HARDSHIP OF SANITARY ADMINISTRATION.

A very remarkable case of hardship experienced by a family through the administration of the sanitary regulations, was brought to light to-day by Mr Michael McDonnell, T.C., at the meeting of the Improvement and Cleansing Committee of the Corporation. The family of a labourer living in Thomondgate had been suffering from scarlet fever, and two of the children were sufficiently recovered to be permitted out of bed, but the third continued to lie up. Yesterday one of the sub-sanitary officers visited the house, and in the exercise of his authority deprived the child's bed of its clothing, and sent it off to the chamber in the workhouse to be disinfected. The result was that the sick child had to be placed on a bundle of straw on the floor covered with its day clothing, and added to which was a quilt that its mother had borrowed. The father, after his day's work on yesterday was obliged to remain up throughout the night, or rather sleep on a chair, having no bed clothing, and the mother, with a baby at nurse, was subjected to the same ordeal. Mr MacDonnell brought the matter before the Committee, and the mother of the family attended, and corroborated the statements made. The High Sheriff described it as most inhuman to have the family left in such a condition, and Councillor Donnelly remarked that in the case of poor people the law made provision that they should be supplied with clothes while the articles that are infected are detained for cleansing. At Corporation have to go to expense.

The Chairman—It would be your wish if the Limerick Corporation could see its way to give it to you on the same terms as in Waterford.

Mr Shaw said he thought it desirable to let them know what was being done in Waterford.

Mr Gilligan—Will we have the water?

Mr DeCourcy—It is a large amount, especially in dry weather.

Mr Shaw—The arrangement suggested would be temporary. We could come to some other arrangement at the end of the year if there was too great a draw, but we don't desire to press the Corporation at all.

Mr Michael McDonnell said if the waste of water were stopped they would have plenty.

Mr Begley said the Committee gave this matter a lot of consideration and he did not know whether they should open it again.

The Chairman—It would be better to send it back to the Council for reconsideration.

Mr Dundon—If you give it to the Waterford and Limerick Company for 3d, other companies will be looking for a reduction.

The Chairman—What would be the revenue from the railway.

Mr Dundon—About £250.

After further remarks, it was decided to call a special meeting of the committee on Friday to consider the matter.

THE FIRE BRIGADE.

The same members formed a meeting of the Fire Brigade Committee. A letter was read from the Brigade complaining of not being paid according to the rules laid down in connection with the fire at Keenan's in William street.

Mr Forrest said he did not like to pay without the sanction of the Committee.

An order for the payment was made.

Mr Gilligan complained of the laxity displayed by the outside men employed at the fire that night. He never saw anything worse, and it would be a very good thing if an auxiliary staff could be got.

Mr Donnelly—What is the cost of putting out this fire.

Mr Forrest—About £5.

It was understood that portion of the expense would be got from the Insurance Company.

MR WM B FITT'S MEADOWING SALES FOR THIS WEEK—Mr Wm B Fitt, auctioneer, will hold the following sales of meadowing during the week:—To-morrow (Wednesday), at Pallasbeg, Pallasgreen, for Mrs Wheeler, 25 acres; Thursday, at Kilpeacon, at one o'clock, for Mrs Spillane, 15 acres; same day, at Kilpeacon Rectory, 10 acres; same day, at Ballyfinan, Parteen, for Mr J O'G Deluge, 18 acres; Friday, at Rhebogue, for Mr P Hartigan, 25 acres; same day, at Killonan, for Mr James Hickey, 20 acres; also for Mrs Ryan, 10 acres; Saturday, at old Corcanree, for Alderman Riordan, 36 acres; also at Ballykeeffe, for Mr Leahy, 25 acres. Monday next, at Dunkip Meanus, annual sale of 80 acres; Tuesday next at Castlegarde, Pallasgreen, 40 acres; same day at Moanroe, Oola, 40 acres. Particulars of other sales will be found in our advertising columns.

GENTLEMEN'S SUMMER COVERT COATS—C. CORNEILLE, Thomas Street, is now showing a special line in the above, at 37s 6d each, perfect in cut style, and finish. Lustre Jackets in various colours, from 6s 6d. Fancy Cashmere Waistcoats good washing colours, from 5s 6d. "Specialite"—perfect fitting Trousers made to measure, from 12s 6d. Hundreds of patterns to select from. These are really wonderful value, and any gentleman wanting a pair of trousers for ordinary wear should see the choice assortment of patterns to select from, at 12s 6d, 14s 6d, and 16s 6d. 53 & 54 Thomas Street.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—Madam Worth Celebrated Guinea Corsets (black 25s) may be obtained from her Local Agents, Messrs