Paris on Monday night a large and danis bomb was placed by a man who has dis-ared at the door of the rooms occupied by bbe Garnier, a French priest of Socialist s, founder and conductor of the paper Peuple ise. The wife of the concierge found the lighting and called her husband, who burnt ands in putting it out, then carried away omb, plunged it in water, and handed it to the police.

ie Press Association understands that Mr dings, who has been for many years one of chief officers of the Central Liberal ration in Parliament street, London, has ppointed secretary to the new Midland ties Liberal Federation, which is to have its quarters at Birmingham. Mr Woodings is eave one thousand pounds per annum, and pointed for seven years.

Vaughan has announced his intention of ning the mastership of the Temple on July en he will have held the appointment for a ter of a century. It has been known for al months that Dr Vaughan's health would ssitate this resignation. The most popular intment in his stead would certainly be that mon Ainger, who has been much missed in emple and at the Temple Church since he ned the Readership.

ajor E W Murphy, second in command of 2nd battalion Leinster Regiment, obtains otion to the rank of lieutenant-colonel to mand the 1st battalion of the regiment in of Lieutenant-Colonel H H Prior, who has ed, after being at the head of the battalion a few months, having taken over the comd last December. Major Murphy has less twenty years' service in the regiment, haveen appointed lieutenant in the 2nd bat-n in December 1874.

ie silver kettledrums which Queen Victor's ed for her Prussian Dragoon Guards have reached Berlin, and they will be presented to egiment in time for the grand annual spring le of the Guards, which is to be held on the inst. on the Tempel of Commons. It is probable that on this occasion additional est may be added to the great military show e presence of a deputation of the "Royals," will go over to take the "commands" of new Imperial chief.

e King of Sweden and Norway in his capacity uharnais (for he, like Napoleon III., is des-ed from the Empress Josephine), visited the ress Eugéne during his stay in the South of ce. As a Bernadotte, he will now exchange with the President of the Republic. There amusing story that when the first Berna-King, Charles XIV., had to be blooded, in year 1843, when he was nearly eighty, the rs found on his arm the inscription: "A es rois! Vive la République!" which had tattooed in the Revolutionary days.

the entire proceedings. Mr John W. Wigham, J. P., presided, and addresses were delivered by Lady Henry Somerset, Miss Willard, Professor Barrett, Dr Cosgrave, and Mr John Gore. Resolutions were carried in favour of temperance, and commending the remarks of the lady speakers to the earnest consideration of everybody interested in the welfare of Ireland.

AN OCEAN RACE.

The ocean race between the Majestic and the Paris, from New York, has been won by the former, which reached Liverpool yesterday, while the Paris only reached Southampton in the course of the evening. It is stated that the Paris had half an hour's start leaving New York, and the passengers of the Majestic complain that after the White Star liner had overtaken and passed the American the latter, steaming past again, crossed the bows of the Majestic at a distance of two or three hundred yards.

The Marquis of Salisbury had a long consultation with other leaders of the Unionist party in the offices of the Conservative Whip yesterday, and afterwards Mr Goschen consulted the speaker as to a motion which is to be proposed this evening to divide the Budget Bill into two parts. This motion will be proposed by Sir John Lubbock.

With reference to the visit of the Queen to Manchester on Monday to open the Ship Canal, the Court Circular of last evening says:—"The Queen was deeply gratified by the very great and enthusiastic display of loyalty with which her Majesty was received during her long drive through Manchester and Salford, the decorations of which she greatly admired."

Announcement of Births, Marriages and Deaths, not exceeding 5 lines (which must in all cases be duly authenticated), are charged 2s 6d each. For every additional line 6d.
