

death of the late Mr Robert Hunt, held the position for over forty years. He received a salary of £320 a year, out of which he paid his assistant collectors, but it is in future the Corporation will work on a different arrangement, and that is, to pay a certain amount collected, such as is done in the Law Unions. The matter will come before the Corporation on a notice of motion of Alderman at a special meeting of the Town Council on Monday next. The date of the election has yet been fixed, but canvassing is going on briskly.

DOG RACING IN COUNTY LIMERICK.

Mr. J. H. Hounds, writes the World have been most fortunate since the thaw in Ireland. They scored a two hours' run last week, and a fox made the unusual point of nine fine hunting runs. It was fortunately many of the followers of Lord Enniskerry, Russell; and Mr Gavin may be proud on the achievements of his pack.

AN INTERESTING FASHIONABLE MARRIAGE IN WEST CLARE.

The marriage of Mr A Jelf, B L, London, with Miss Bessborough, will be solemnized in the Church, at Easter. It was originally intended that the marriage would take place at Kilmurry, but it is considered a more desirable, and besides, it was in the Kilrush the marriage of Mrs Reeves (mother-in-law) and all Colonel Vandeleur's pack place.—Cor.

THE FUEL FUND.

EDITOR OF THE LIMERICK CHRONICLE.
24th January, '95.

—As your widely-circulated paper many years advanced the above charity, I am permitted to give your readers the benefit of my experience of its great value to the poor this year. I am in a position, as a member of the Society which has the subjects, to state that as far as possible, the poor alone get the benefit of the visits to the homes of the poor in the streets of the city I never remember to see with so much poverty aggravated by the continuance of cold weather has told me on this class. I am informed by the Committee of the Fund, that unless a general order is made in the city the Committee will be obliged to issue any more coal. If our fellow-citizens undertook the visits to the hovels of the poor generally, as the infancy of the Fund, when the late Mr Robert Hunt and men of his pack went from door to door to distribute coal, it could not have dwindled down from what it had been to less than a fourth of what it is at present.

Faithfully yours,
A CITIZEN.

DEATH OF MR JOHN CASEY, BRUFF.

We regret to announce the unexpected death of Mr John Casey, auctioneer, Bruff, which took place last week. It would seem that Mr Casey suffered for some months back from an internal injury consequent on a car accident, and he had been to Dublin where he underwent an operation. Recently he went to London to seek the best eminent advice, but his condition gradually became worse and he died there. The remains were taken over to Bruff, the family burial place and the funeral, which took place on Saturday, was of a very large and most representative character, all the gentry and people of the surrounding district being present. It was an ample proof of Mr Casey's popularity, and the regret which is expressed at the loss of a most courteous and useful county Limerick man. The chief mourners included Mr D Casey, Kilkee, brother, and Mr Minahan, Limerick, brother-in-law.

Mr R Gibson, salesmaster, reports that the demand for cream is very heavy supply week; but in spite of this, the demand for cream of really good quality is still I could have placed much more at good prices. Turnips and stale butter not wanted at all. No maker need or straky butter if they handle milk with a careful observation of the butter. From 16th to 22nd January I sold 25 at 118s, 6 at 116s, 10 at 114s, 5 at 112s, 14 at 110s, 3 at 108s, 106s, 2 at 102s, 28 at 84s (very salt)—63 salted. Rolls badly made, full short weight, won't suit this market who pay good prices must get good butter out of hands. Remember every roll opened and weighed here, and sold for its merits, nothing taken for granted. 1 lb in a box of rolls is weighed before.

THE ACCIDENT TO MR.

In our last issue there appeared a statement that the injuries received by Mr. at a football match at Limerick were to be permanent. We are glad to be able to state that this is not a fact, and the unremitting attention of Dr. there is every reason to hope that he will be around in a short time.—Kerry Post

A SINGULAR HUNTING INCIDENT.

The followers of the Kilkenny pack had a rather strange experience on Saturday. The meet was close to Waterford, and a fox was known to be in the Hill covert. He went straight for Bigwood Chase. In the hot pursuit he charged the windows of the sacred edifice, just as the hounds were being whistled. Security was, however, temporary, and the door was opened, and Reynard was pulled down after a short chase close upon an hour.—Freeman.
