

he says, "upon the latter the improving tenant rent raised by reason of the expiration of his lease; he thrifless tenant have reason of dilapidation; and correct, the condition of have little weight in fixing

In future there may be once with the prices, &c., on of the lands." These any blots in the measure, knowing what time may in Committee. It is evi- dicated measure, and one ureful consideration at the ion in the House of Com- h landlords, by reason of ation they possess, are advantage. One remark- ord Londonderry pointed ; Accrington, is this, that ause enabling landlords to arrangements with their under clause 13 of Mr chase Bill of '91. One of House of Lords rejected Bill was because of this pro- mpulsory, and the fact that w go back to the principle four's Act, shows that they eed to the conclusion that e and only one to meet the he case. Therefore, Lord ly accuses the Government ter portion of 1894 in an 'an impossible measure.' ime with a vengeance, and country is heartily sick of illating policy which has administration all round, oreign affairs.

a copy of the twenty-fifth the Limerick Boat Club, neral meeting of members nseum last month. It is nt epoch in the history of e reminded of the fact that nders have sadly diminished, w remain to share with you i witnessing its entry on a and vigorous, if not ambi- renown." This is a very ut it falls rather flat when on, in reference to the pro- the Limerick regattas—" It place to remark that two ial to making a regatta a tment of an energetic com-served in the Army and Navy for many genera- tions in unbroken succession.

DEATH OF A BANK MANAGER.—The death is announced of Mr William F Evans, Manager of the National Bank, Dungarvan, where he has been located in that capacity since 1882. He was the eldest son of the late Mr William Evans, solicitor, Limerick, and for 30 years had been in the service of the Bank. By the people of Dun- garvan he was most highly esteemed, and his death is deeply regretted. The funeral was of very large proportions, and the chief mourners were Messrs Arthur and Herbert Evans, and the Rev W Evans, White Church.

ASSAULT ON A SOLDIER.—Corporal Wm. Hoey, of the Royal Irish Regiment, was attacked and badly beaten by some persons unknown in Thomas street last night. It is stated that the corporal, accompanied by a civilian friend, Patrick Murphy, of Carey's Road, was passing through the street about half-past 10, when some persons approached from the bowway of Tucker's hotel and assaulted both. The soldier was knocked down, and it is alleged received some knocks on the face, causing an injury to the left eye, breaking two teeth in the left jaw, and causing a wound on the nose. The civilian was also beaten, but not so severely as the corporal.

A LIMERICKMAN KILLED IN KINGSTOWN.—A very distressing accident occurred on Saturday evening on the Main Drainage Works, Eden Road, Kingstown. It seems that two men named Joseph Gaynor, aged 30 years, of 6 Finegan's Court, married, and James Mangan, aged 22 years, of 8 Ball's Court—a native of Limerick—were amongst those engaged in the work, and their charge missed fire. They proceeded to abstract the tonite from the boring, when it suddenly exploded, dashing the poor fellows about and burning and mangling them fearfully. They were conveyed to St Michael's Hospital with all possible despatch, and it was found that Mangan's right thigh was broken in several places and that he had received other injuries which rendered his recovery impossible. The poor fellow died on Saturday night, and his colleague lies in a precarious condition.

ACCIDENTS.—Michael Ryan, labourer, of Vize's Field, was admitted into Barrington's Hospital on Saturday morning, suffering from a fracture to his right leg caused by a fall; he is detained in hospital. Another labourer named Denis Cleary is also being attended to in Barrington's Hospital, suffering from a fractured arm, and he also received wounds on the head, during a row. A man named Harry Ryan is in custody charged with inflicting the injury with an iron bar. Agnes Connors, a little girl residing in Francis street, accidentally fell downstairs on Saturday morning and fractured her thigh; she is detained in Bar- rington's Hospital. Yesterday morning an old woman was conveyed to the hospital complaining of injuries received by being run over by a farmer's cart in Upper William street, at eleven o'clock. She was found to have received very slight injuries, and was sent to the Workhouse Hospital.

CITY POLICE COURT.—No magistrate attended the City Police Court yesterday. Constable Riedy charged a man named John O'Brien, who wore a military uniform, with being a deserter from the Leinster Regiment. He was brought before Mr S B Quin, who ordered him to be handed over to the military authorities.—Mr Hickman at- tended at the City Police Court to-day. Sergeant Hickey applied for the remand of a labouring man named John Clery, for assaulting his mother. The sergeant stated that he saw the prisoner strike his mother in the face with his

James H Roche, William-street; Henry L Stewart George-street; Daniel Tucker, Corn- market Row; John Collins, Ballinacurra; Louis Griffiths, Collooney-street; Thomas Hassett, George-street; James Kidd, George-street; Richard Lee, North Strand; Martin Maguire, George-street; Patrick O'Connor, Upper William- street.

Mr Ellard informed his Honor that there were no criminal business for hearing.

His Honor said he was very happy to hear that announcement. This was the ninth Quarter Sessions at which he had presided for the trial of criminal business, and on six occasions out of the nine there were no criminal cases to go before him, and on the other three occasions the cases were so trivial that he had never found it neces- sary to inflict a longer term than one month's im- prisonment in the cases that came before him. He congratulated the people of this city and county on the tranquility, peace, order, and good will that prevails over the county and city.

The Sub-Sheriff then made the usual present of a pair of white gloves to the judge.

His Honor inquired if there were any criminal business in the county.

Mr Leahy, Crown Prosecutor, said there was one case in which a bill had already been found.

His Honor said he thought the County Grand Jurors should receive intimation that they need not attend.

Mr Leahy said some of them lived in remote places in the county, and a letter would scarcely reach them before to-morrow mornng.

His Honor considered they should not be put to the inconvenience of attending when it was not necessary.

LICENSING APPEAL.

Mr Cornelius Quilligan, publican, John-street, appealed from the decision of the city magis- trates imposing on him a fine of £2 for a breach of the Licensing Act.

Mr Leahy represented the Crown, to sustain the conviction, and Mr J H Moran, solr, appeared for the appellant.

From the evidence of Constable Daly it ap- peared that on the occasion in question the de- fendant's house was open, and three parties were drinking at the bar, at a quarter to two o'clock, it being Sunday. The defendant insisted that it was two o'clock, but his own clock represented the time as a quarter to two, which was right, as witness looked at his watch.

The defence was that the defendant was under the impression that it was two o'clock, and it was further urged that the police were unfriendly towards him.

Head-constable Feeny was examined and denied the latter allegation.

His Honor in endorsing the conviction of the magistrates said in his opinion the defendant was aware that it was not two o'clock, and he did not believe that the police had any spite against him. The bench of magistrates who heard the case had exercised a discretion in the matter, and he would not disturb that discretion. He would do everything that he could to support the action of the Limerick magistrates in dealing with this question of licensed houses, because he believed their attitude in the matter was courageous, straight, and most useful, and a great example to other places, including the county of Limerick. By the manner in which the city magistrates were dealing with this most useful licensing code they were an example to the magistrates of other counties, including, he must say, the county of Limerick. In this case the conviction and fine were confirmed.

STANDARD WEIGHTS.

Mr Leahy said with reference to the applica- tion to compel the Corporation to supply prope standard weights and measures, which had been made before the Judge of Assizes, who had re- ferred the matter back to his Honor, he under- stood an arrangement had been practically ar- rived at.