

ed to unless riter, as a ecessary for e to return

should be ck on Tues-
Where no
ll advertise-

r Advertise-
publication.
r than Five
and Friday

s of credit
munications
E MANAGER

ONICLE

L 11, 1866.

ion was pre-
representing
land respect-
is signed by Irish Lands residing in ernment Bill
of Commons
is somewhat
he petition,
available to
et be found
e is reached.
esent unsatis-
not only in
in, consider
ry advantage
em, and that
reserved and uggest that purchase of
asing tenant
ut detriment
were done it
nore largely
at the punc-
chasers have
ple evidence
e sanctioned
moment also

DEATH OF THE REV J. B. RADCLIFFE.—We announce with sincere regret the death of the Rev John Bennett Radcliffe, M A, which took place at his residence, 64 Marlboro Road, Dublin, on the 9th inst. He was curate of St John's, Limerick, in 1862, and incumbent of St Patrick's from 1884 to 1891. Since then the rev gentleman has been residing in Dublin, and doing temporary duty. He was only in his 58th year

CASUALTY AT SKIBBEREEN.—A telegram received in town to-day states that the ship "Carnarvonshire," with a cargo of wheat, stranded during last night's gale at Gocaun Point, off Skibbereen, and it is feared she may become a wreck. It is not stated where the vessel was bound for. Some time ago the "Carnarvonshire" discharged a cargo of grain in Limerick. She is a vessel of 1,227 tons register, and is classed A1 at Lloyd's.

ADJOURNED PETTY SESSIONS.—A number of cases stood adjourned from yesterday at the City Petty Sessions, and were disposed of to-day by the Mayor and Mr S B Quin. A man named John Finucane was charged by Constable M'Hugh, John street, with the larceny of 6s 8d from Mr Hartigan, Upper William street. He had been sent to get some articles with the money, but failed to return. He was sent to gaol for seven days. The other cases were of a trivial nature.

PHARMACEUTICAL EXAMINATION.—At the examination held in Dublin on the 7th instant under the Pharmaceutical Society of Ireland, Mr F. B. Angley, of this city, was one of those who passed, obtaining third place among the fifteen successful candidates. Mr Angley was prepared for his examination by Mr J. F. Switzer, B.A, 62, Catherine street. Mr P M Nugent, son of Mr M Nugent, M P S I (J P Evans & Co), also took a prominent place, and passed a very creditable examination. He was prepared by Mr W Joyce, B A.

MONS RODOLPHE CHRISTEN'S SKETCHING TOUR. It will be seen by advertisement that there are a few vacancies in the party which, under the guidance of Monsieur Rodolphe Christen, in a short time will start on a sketching tour through France, Belgium, and Holland. It affords a splendid opportunity to lovers of art to visit the rich galleries and world-famed pictures of the Louvre and the collections at Amsterdam, Antwerp, and La Hague. Possibly some of our local connoisseurs will be glad to avail themselves of the highly favourable opportunity which the forthcoming tour offers. In every sense it is certain to be a most enjoyable trip.

ST MARY'S CATHEDRAL.—First Sunday after Easter—Morning Prayer, 11.30—Venite, Rimbault; Chants, Soaper, in D; Service, Te Deum and Jubilate, Barnby, in E; Hymn, No. 192; Communion Service and Offertory Sentences, Barnby; Preacher, the Dean. Evening Prayer, 3.30—Chants, Woodward, in D, and Bennett, in

FASHIONABLE MARRIAGE

AT

ST MARY'S CATHEDRAL

CAPTAIN COCHRANE AND MISS DE ROS ROSE.

A very large and fashionable congregation assembled within the venerable walls of St Mary's Cathedral this morning to witness the marriage, solemnized by the Very Rev the Dean and the Ven the Archdeacon of Limerick, of Capt Charles Fitzgerald Thomas Cochrane, 1st Batt Leinster Regiment (Royal Canadians), son of the late Mr Basil Cochrane, of St Peter's Hill, Grantham, and Miss Maud Mary, eldest daughter of Mr Robert de Ros Rose, J.P, of Ardhru House, and Ahabeg, County Limerick. A large number of invitations to the elite of the city and county had been issued, and from eleven o'clock a constant stream of carriages found its way to the Cathedral. Before 11.30 (the hour fixed for the ceremony) the specially reserved seats in the aisle and chancel were filled by a brilliant throng, and the beautiful and varied spring toilettes of the ladies made the scene a highly picturesque one. In other parts of the Cathedral large numbers of the general public had collected, and, naturally enough, were on tip-toe of expectation for the coming of the bride. Amongst the earliest arrivals of the bridal party was the bridegroom, who, accompanied by his best man, took his place near the Communion rails. Soon after Mrs de Ros Rose and relatives of the family appeared, and the hushed excitement which was visible on the faces of the spectators announced the coming of the bride. Alighting from her carriage, the fair young lady passed along the passage to the western, or main doorway, immediately inside which the bridesmaids and page were in waiting. A little above them several gentlemen of the Cathedral choir, and a number of the boys, with the Rev W J Adams, Vicar Choral, at their head, were ranged at either side of the crimson carpet, which reached from the outer entrance to the steps at the aisle. The choir first moved up to their allotted places, and then to the strains of the "Bride's March," from Rebecca, (Barnby), the bride, leaning on her father's arm, and followed by her brother, who made a very handsome little page, and the bridesmaids, passed up to the Communion rails. The bride, who looked charming, was attired in white satin, trimmed with lace in cascades down the front, with train of brocade falling from the neck. The bodice was in folds of satin, with brocade crossing in front and trimmed with lace, orange blossoms, and pearl passementerie. She wore in her hair real orange blossoms, and her tulle veil was fastened with a diamond star,

THE
reiss
Court
Capt
suga
Maj
Dish
Miss
bon-
and Mr
Dr
dish
Mas
fran silv
exti
carv
Hun
chec
Lim
Hob
The
R K
case
Miss
silv
mon
silv
sapl
pin
San
sug
fran
Wh
Wh
and Mis
Cap
flow
S Q
Mas
whi
emb
bon
star
Mis
Mr
and
Mr
Mr
Lin
ton
gol
ker
cus
Mr
Ma
Crt
Mr
Ser
tri
chi
har
Mr
J
Tre
fit
Re
ca
col
Co
an