

ascend of salmon into the upper or waters of the various rivers during the season." He does not state the which this could be done, preferring, to leave the districts themselves to their views through the petitions. His is likely to give rise to a great deal of controversy, and in all probability practical will come of it, if the angling committees who are 3,000 strong (which is the of licenses taken out in 1894) take the up in a vigorous and practical manner. object, Lord Howth states, is backed up Tourists' Association, the Hotel enter- and Fishing Tackle Warehouses in d and Ireland. Lord Howth deserves nks of the piscatorial fraternity for his action. It has not been taken a too soon, for according to his Lord- e Fishery Inspectors' report for 1895 present a sad tale of "perhaps the worst angling in Ireland—a dry season is y responsible, but the lamentable of salmon in the angling waters is also d."

ALL is par excellence the game of the day. Other games have had their but now the youth, the middle aged and indeed we might say the man in the of life, display an interest in football is simply extraordinary. It is difficult what pastime could take its place, for is there a form of amusement (racing, rse, excepted), which could attract on d the thousands who with an eagerness is sometimes painful in its intensity the progress of a football match. In nd it is all the rage, the local papers with reports relating to the nd the special editions are awaited with re interest than if they contained some ng-episode in our foreign affairs. In Ire- comparatively speaking, we are scarcely a ehind hand in our admiration of the manly and what shall we say of our own city, the prowess and science displayed by Preacher, The Rev T F Abbott, B D, V C; Even- ing Prayer, 3.30; Chants, Dupuis, Turle, and Randall; Service, Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis, Garrett in D; Anthem, selections from "The Messiah," No 45, "I know that my Redeemer," solo; No 46, "Since by man came death," quartet and chorus; 50, "Behold I show you," solo; and 44, "Hallelujah Chorus," Handel; Preacher, The Archdeacon; Weekday Services at 11.30 a.m and 3 p.m daily; Special Days of Observance, Monday and Tuesday in Easter Week; Litany on Wed- nesday and Friday.

SALE OF WORK AT THE PALACE.

At the sale of work to be held at the Palace, Henry street, on Saturday next, 11th April, at 3 and 6.30, Mrs Vere O'Brien will exhibit both Limerick lace and Ennis work, the latter being most suitable for children, overalls and pina- fores of all sorts. Both are very pretty and extremely cheap, and can be had in this style. The different Convent schools will be represented, and knitting from Newcastle West, Sixmile- Bridge, and other districts will be on view.

DROWNING ACCIDENT.

A sad drowning accident occurred in Limerick on Thursday night. It seems an elderly man named John Ryan, a cook on board the ss. Shannon, left the vessel early in the night for the purpose of getting some provisions. He visited Mrs Touhy's, of Mountkennet, where he made some purchases, and about eleven o'clock he proceeded to the steamer, which lay outside the Lower Shannon Company's Offices. A night watchman named Hehir, who is employed by the Company, heard a splash in the water about this time, but there was no cry or alarm of any sort. However the deceased was reported missing next morning, and a search was made in the vicinity of Lime- rick, but the body was found some twelve hours after the fatality in a creek at Meelick, five miles below the city. It was, strange to say, discovered in a perpendicular position, and it is a very rare circumstance to succeed in recover- ing a body so soon. An inquest was held, and a verdict of accidental death returned. The re- mains were interred to-day in Mount St Lawrence Cemetery. Deceased, who was a very respectable old man, was a native of Kilrush, he was a widower, but, it seems, had no one depend- ing on him. He was in the employment of the Company for several years.

GENTLEMEN'S BROWN LEATHER BOOTS.—C. Corneille, Thomas street, is now showing his new season's stock of the above. Splendid value from 12s 6d per pair. Choice selection of fancy knicker hose, ties, scarfs, hats, and caps, &c. All the new and leading shades in collars, cuffs, and shirts. "Special orders" for fancy shirts, waist- coats, cycling suits, &c, executed from 7 to 10 days. Hundreds of patterns to select from: perfect fit guaranteed.

Hartigan, and Mr Roy to fit near Ennis; they left Enn they got a boat at the lake boat some time witness began the front of the boat, the stem with their backs to caught a fish, and was taking mouth, when Roy stood up it staggered and fell back on th him out of the boat, whic went over on its side, th water; when witness rose i shore; after going half way of water, were bringing him to swim on his back, when h panions' heads in the water; on his face, and got to t exhausted condition; when l he ran around the lake and c did not see them; he went two police from Ennis, who Hall, and he asked them did on the road, knowing th Sparling would be remarkabl they said not, and he then s had a sad story to tell, and must have been drowned. Mr Rice asked were all the sober.

Witness said that Harti a glass of soda, Sparlin glasses of stout, while he taken anything for over two half drunk.

Captain Carden gave evid of the bodies; Hartigan, w basket on his back, was abou bank; Sparling was about about 50 yards; the latter h in his left hand, and Sparli his fishing line.

This was all the evidence, found a verdict of accidental

The funerals will take pl noon, after the service at the and churches, and the se unite in a general process Cemetery.

VETERINARY SURGEONS

At the recent examination College of Veterinary Surg- Irish students from the new Edinburgh, passed their sever

First—E Finucane, Limeri
Final Theoretical—J Lynn
Phelan, Tipperary; W Russ
Limerick.

Final Practical (and obtai Royal College of Veterinary i Dervock, county Antrim; W Murnane, Limerick.

The following passed thei tions from the Glasgow V
First—A M'Donnell, Co. I
Burke, Dublin; B H John
Final Theoretical and Pract Ballycorthy, Co. Antrim.