 Herbert B. Arnold, youngest son of the late Bernard Leonard, of Athy, County Kildare, to Annie Margaruite, only daughter of George E Kendrick, Inland Revenue.

DEATHS.

O'Halloran—February 1st, 1896, at his residence, 93 Ombersley Road, Birmingham, Mr Paul O'Halloran, formerly of Limerick, and fifth son of the late Michael O'Halloran, Rathbane, deeply regretted by his loving wife, children,
 and family—R.I.P.

Wilde—February 3, at her residence, 146 Oakley street, Chelsea, of acute bronchitis, Jane Francesca Speranza, Lady Wilde, widow of the late Sir William Wilde, MD, of Dublin.

Sohan—February 4, at her residence, 89 North King street, Dublin, Miss Kate Sohan, eldest daughter of the late Mr Richard Sohan, of Ballycahan, County Kildare.

There will be another tussle between the Dillon-ites and the Healyites in Rutland-square, Dublin, on Friday, when the National Federation will meet to elect its executive committee for the ensuing year. Last year this committee was captured by the Healyites; but the Dillonites will not be caught napping this time, and a close contest is expected. Urgent whips are out on both sides. The Federation consists of the Irish Nationalist members, in combination with delegates from the Irish counties and cities.
