Dock last evening to undergo extensive repairs under the superintendence of Messrs. Waters and Sons. This vessel is not the first of the kind that has arrived here, and will afford extensive employment to local shipwrights and fitters. It is satisfactory; in view of the keenness of competition on the part of other graving docks in the country, to find that this important contract has been obtained, and it reflects a great deal of credit on Mr Waters's enterprise. Work will be commenced immediately.
