ht, and arrer some works some aission. It appears that his subcepted, though it is a pity such caped hanging. On the 5th of s submission was made in public, sd in his prostrating himself and orehead three times in the dust, in th native custom. Amongst those the King of Benin made his is interesting to note the name of tleman well known in this county urhood. The party who received the 7th of this month consisted of pell (the acting political resident). ter, Royal Scots (commanding the nin city), Lieutenaut Gabbett, and Lieutenant Gabbett is, we learn, Mr Wyndham Gabbett, of Mount d nephew of Mr D. F. Gabbett. I.P. for this city, Lieut. Gabbett ed to the Royal Welsh Fusiliers in is at present attached to the Niger te Force. We congratulate the ong officer on the prominent and s position to which he has so quickly or Desertion.—A man named John as brought up at the Police Court this thereof by Detective Constable Jordan g a deserter from the Leinster Regipresent stationed in Cork. No magis-nded, and after delaying for an hour at the accused was brought before a city nd remanded, to be handed over to a secort.

NTS—William Reilly, Change lane, emadock labourer, while at work in a coal morning, fell from a plank to the deck sined rather serious injuries, for which reated in Barrington's Hospital, where ained. A man named Shine, Denmark as also treated in the hospital for inhis hand caused by a knife. Shine, it while engaged in a dispute, grasped the the instrument which cut his thumb fingers rather seriously.

Connemara is lying seriously ill at her a in Grosvenor street, London:

188000. UL DUD belong to the Senior passes three Grade, eight to the Middle Grade, seven to the Junior Grade, and nine to the Preparatory Grade. The successful students are, therefore, very well spread over all four grades. We are sure that the supply of exhibitions and prizes will be well in proportion to the above, but without waiting till the further lists are published, it will be seen that the large number of passes tells of solid, sound, steady work on the part of pupils and teachers. St Munchins College, as will be seen by the advertisement in our columns, makes a very special feature of giving pupils a sound commercial education apart altogether from the Intermediate programme, so as to fit them for commercial pursuits and the Civil Service examinations. A more extended school course is made to embrace elecution, singing, French conversation, and Experimental Science, whilet physical development is also attended to in classes conducted by a competent military instructor.

DEATH OF MR JAMES HAYES,

The deepest regret has been occasioned by the death, at the early age of 25 years, of Mr James Hayes, youngest son of Dr Thomas Hayes, J.P., Rathkeale. The deceased was intended for the medical profession, of which his father and brothers are so well-known members, and had a most promising career before him. The ability he displayed in its studies was a happy augury for a most successful professional career. His kind, gentle, unassuming manner endeared him to many outside the family circle, and his untimely demise has provoked the most genuine regret. The sympathy of all classes is extended to the bereaved family and friends.

I hear, says a London correspondent, that at the conclusion of the vient of the Duke and Duchess of York, the Queen will address a message to the Irish Nation.

A remarkable coincidence (says the Telegraph) occurred the other day at Osborne. Among those who went down to the Isle of Wight to receive from her Majesty the honour of knighthood were three out of the five mayors designated in the Jubilee list for that distinction—namely, the Mayors of Brighton, Norwich, and Safford. Upon arrival at the palace they were invited to subscribe their names in the Queen's birthday book, when it was found that October 15 was the birthday of all three.

Open on Sunday from 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 o'clock for the sule of medicines and medical necessaries.

—J. LAIRD & Co., Chemists, 118, George-street, Limerick.

[July 22]

Mayor of the city, whoever ne mignetime being, but also for the member council. The Mayor was supposed Mayor's Office, but the Mayor had and the members of the Council place to meet and confer as matters of great importance. There we municipality he believed in Ireland, an say the world, that was in such a colimerick. It was a disgrace and a disclayer was deprived of his office, over which was printed Mayor's Office. Clerk was deprived of his secrecy and his office by the intrusion of men Town Council and the general public. The Town Clerk—I don't object, a come (laughter).

Mr Gaffney continuing, said Mr city treasurer, was similarly circums thesergounts did not do neir duty the rabble out of the Town Hall.

Mr Donnelly—The people.
Mr Gaffney—The rabble. I don't people, but I object to the rabble to Cork and there the Mayor has a be can furnish himself, and he furnish

The Mayor—Yes, and in every of Limerick.

Mr Gaffaey—I saw a letter from Roche, late Mayor, and it was address members' room. Where is the mem this city?

The Mayor—There ought to be.
Mr Gaffney—It should be a recommendate that somethin done to accommodate the member here several times during the day icivil business.

Mr O'Connell—It is the fault of themselves who were the prime mor away what they wanted for munici Mr Nelson—It is never too late to coming into the hall.

Mr Nelson—It is never too late to Mr Gaffney—It is scandalous to l of the Council grossly insulted will coming into the hall.

Mr Donnelly Mr Gaffney will that is the usual way of treating pr

It was decided that as soon as A and Mr James Gaffney had time, the should summer the Committee to a charges against the Mayor's serger a book should be kept in which sho the time at which they came to that steps be immediately taken Clerk to get over the large room with the agreement by which League were to become tenants of room.

CARVING AND GILDING.—P. Catherine street, Picture Frame h

. ;