Isaak Walton all over the ut the beauties of Lough t summer out of the reach of Limerick. Inniscaltra ill be brought within easy t by the new scheme, whilst ith's county will not long sognita to the admirers of The opening of the of steamers must of necesle to this city, which should quarters of the tourist he principal business and of the whole district, and general prosperity which pected, will be the result of rable importance to Limerick ore important still to Clare.

pirectors of the West Clare

t their meeting in Dublin

we learn, proposed by Mr H the passenger fares between by something like fifty per es being, in his opinion-and 1 the opinion of numerous hibitive. It is a very large 10 doubt the matter will comserious consideration of the hardly say that it is a very a man to take his family to rail, and without doubt the portion, when we remember es which are obtainable in season. No doubt, it will be ense passenger traffic is the ch ample facilities are pos the population is small or other way of developing uraging people to travel Clare Company made stion in their fares, it is ir traffic would run up by The number of visitors to and Killee, would speedily raged by cheap trave!, we in remote parts of Ir land ed the iron bound coast o attentions to the many igorating places along it also induce the poore ine to avail themselve lore than they do now ak the suggestion o ctical and timely one, and this is another proposal of he right direction, viz-th each way between Limetime which the journey a man named Hannan on the last court day, and a fine of one shilling was imposed. The present defendant admitted the offence, and a like penalty would meet the ends of justice in his case. A fine of one shilling and costs was imposed.

DEATH OF THE SECRETARY OF TIPPERERY CRAND JURIES.—We regret to record the death which occurred at his residence, Ballinaclough, Nenagh, of Captain John P Bayly, R.N. Secretary of the Grand Juries of North and South Ridings of Tipperary. The deceased gentleman had been ill-health for some time, but still there were nopes that he would recover. He had been secretary of the Grand Juries since 1875, and upright in all his dealings, and of a most courteous disposition, he made hosts of friends who deeply lament his demise. The interment took place on Saturday in the family burial place at Ballinaclough, and the cortege was large and representative.

DEATH OF SERGEANT O'CONNOR, B.I.C.-Keen regret is felt by the members of the force in this city and by many civilian friends at the death of Sergeant Michael O'Conhor, of William-street Station, which took place at St John's Hospital on Sunday night from t phoid fever. Deceased, who was quite a young man and of splendid physique, had been only eight or nine days ill. He was a most active and intelligent officer and about a year and a half ago, was transferred from Corbelly to William attack for promotion and Corba'ly to William-street on promotion and quite recently he passed the examination of the Board of Trade qualifying him for the responsible position of Inspector of Weights and Messures. He gave promise of a bright career in the force and his ead demise is deeply regretted by all who knev him. The remains were removed this morning from St Michael's R C Church for Terminus whence they were conveyed by the the Tralee train for interment at Caberciveen, deceased having been a native of that district Some sixty men of the city force, under command of District Inspector Het ed and Head Con-stables Deeny, Morrow, and Fitzgerald, and se-veral of the general public accompanied the remains to the station.

THE PROPOSED REMOVAL OF KINGS CASTLE KILMALLOCK.

It is only natural to expect that the contemplated vandalism at Kimsllock is attracting a great deal of attention. At the last meeting of the Council of the Royal Society of Antiquaries it was proposed by Mr George Coffey, M R I A, seconded by Mr J Digges La Touche, LL D, and passed unanimously:—"That the Council of the Royal Society of Antiquaries of has Ireland heard with regret that a presentment has been passed by the Presentment Sessions for the Liberties of Kilmallock for the purpose of taking down the King's Castle at Kilmallock. The Council is surprised at the contemplated act of vandalism inasmuch as the preservation and protect on of ancient and historic monuments is recognised as a matter of great public interest, and trust that now public attention has been directed to the subject the presentment will not be proceeded with. The Council would further suggest that steps he immediately taken to place this interesting monument in charge of the Board of Works for protection under the Ancient Monuments Protection Act."

GOLF.

LIMERICK GOLF CLUB.

The next competition for the Monthly Medsl

THE TREE PLANTING QUESTION TO THE EDITOR OF THE LIMBRICK CHRONIC Ballingcurra Nurse

29th Jan, '97. DEAR SIR.—Please allow me say a word or subject of the trees and of purchase referre by Mr Bourke in a communication to the poration Committee, and published in your issue. This report of Mr Bourke is a revela indeed, and unfortunately proves how unjudications. Limerick traders have been dealt with in matter. Let me quote from the official no follows :- " On 25th June I read my report quotations received from several nurseries," on the 19th November I reported the time arrived for street planting, and read a l from Saunders and Sons, Cork, on the subj On the 22nd November the Committee met 450 trees were ordered, and Mr Bourke directed to proceed and select them. Or December (14 days after the goods were act ordered), Mr Bourke called on local trade quotations, and (as it was Friday afternoon prices were to be sent in on Monday mor he was told in each case that it would be in sible, under the circumstances, to quote. can it be explained that while communic were passing between Mr Bourke and Sand Cork from 25th June to 22nd November, t in Limerick heard a word on the subject un December, when evidently everything had already arranged. I hold that it is untrue everything was done to procure those got Limerick. On the contrary, everythin done to preclude our houses supplying, wi result that the ratepayers have to pay for the luxury, as Limerickmen could gi it ms at about fifty per cent less cost truly,

STATE OF THE MILITARY ROA TO THE EDITOR OF THE LIMERICK CHRON

columns to call the attention of the Corp to the wretened condition of the Corp to the wretened condition of the Corp the Military Road, especially that on the hand side from the Crescent to Punche's This path seems to be left from one year's another to take care of itself, and is now a condition that it is little better than the of the road. Surely loads of cinders con had for the asking, and a coat of a concentration increased in number considerably years in that direction, and consequent amount of rates paid, but no improve attempted for the comfort and convenithe occupiers. I might also remark that is not a crossing between Collooney-stream.

Trasting some prompt steps will be tak thanking you in anticipation for inserti Yours faithfully,

PEDEST

P, Gen

February 1st.

IN PORTANT TO GENTLEMEN who requir Winter Walking Boots, Shooting Boot gings, Gaiters, &c. C. Corneille, Thomas is now selling remaining lots left ove cheap sale at still further reductions, tout before arrival of new season's stock e boots, &c. Several pairs of ladies' real winter boots, size four and five, selling the selling cheap.

CARVING AND GLEDING.—P. O'Con Catherine street, Picture Frame Maker.