DEVASTATING PRAIRIE FIRES.
The Daily Mail's New York correspondent tele- graphs:—Chicago has been seized with a horrible fear that the city will be destroyed by prairie fires, which have broken out on account of the unprecedented drought. The ground around the city has been ploughed for miles with the object of checking the flames. Cleveland, in the State of Ohio, and other western towns are also threatened with complete destruction. Live stock have been burned to death in the fields, houses have been razed to the ground, and timber has been ruined. Many hundreds of people have been rendered homeless. The danger has been increased by the hardness of the soil, which makes ploughing most difficult. Last night the situation was extremely grave for Chicago and for portions of five Western States.
