

The Lady teams of the same Club also tried conclusions, when Limerick again won by one goal to nil. The Misses Creagh, Stokes and Weston were about the most prominent of the ladies, while Miss Rose (who scored the goal), Mrs. A. Hunt, Mrs. Martin, and the Misses Donnell played well for the visitors. At the conclusion of the match both teams were most hospitably entertained by the Tralee ladies.

MUNSTER JUNIOR LEAGUE.

CORK v. LIMERICK ROVERS.

This match came off to-day in Cork, and resulted in an easy win for Cork by six goals to nil. The Rovers were obliged to travel minus a couple of their best men.

FOOTBALL.

The Limerick County will meet the Cork Contention in the Markets Field on Saturday next, at 11 inst. The Cork team is particularly strong this year, having already beaten both Rockwell Rovers and Wanderers (Dublin), so the Limerick team will have to put forth their best effort, but in their recent form against Tralee they should be able to give a very good account of themselves. Kick off at 2. The following will represent Limerick: — J. Johnston; three-quarters, Gregor, Stokes, and Wallace; halves, Hanrahan and Cooney; forwards, O'Gorman, Hackett, O'Callaghan, Shine, Brien, Brennan, Hanrahan, and another.

DEATH OF CLORANE.

Clorane, whose name will (remarks the Independent) be remembered for many years to come as a race horse of exceptional worth—in fact, a record breaker—died at the Foxhill Stud Farm, Tuesday morning. The great chestnut had been at W T Robinson's stud for the past two years. Clorane was by Castlereagh (by Speculum), dam May Girl, by Victor, from May Day, by Lucas, and was bred by Mr J G Hartigan in County Limerick in 1891.

COUNTY PETTY SESSIONS.

The magistrates present were Mr Hickson, M., and Mr W. F. O'Grady.

Kate O'Halloran, an inmate of the union, was charged by the Master (Mr Dundon) with having refused to obey the reasonable orders of the laundress.

Mr John Ryan, solicitor, prosecuted for the guardians.

Mr Dundon having given evidence of the misconduct of the accused, stated in reply to Mr Hickson that there was nothing previously against her, but on this occasion she threatened to do injury to the laundress.

At the suggestion of Mr Dundon, the case was allowed to be adjourned for three months to see if the defendant would go on.

Ellen Magrath, who had been in the workhouse, was charged with having deserted her children who were in the Union. It was stated that the defendant got a month's imprisonment in August last for insubordination. She had then two children with her in the Union, and when she came out of jail recently she did not go to the Union for the children, and these could not be legally detained there with her. She is now required either to go back to the Union or take out the children. The case was adjourned for a week to give her an opportunity of acting as required.

A number of ordinary cases at the suit of the police were decided.
