

D. O'Shea, Birdhill. His remains, after Solemn Requiem High Mass at St. Thomas's, Windsworth, were interred on Wednesday at Kensal Green Catholic Cemetery. Many of his colleagues at the War Office and from other Government departments attended at the funeral, and the many handsome wreaths sent testified to the respect in which he was held. A young widow and two children are left to mourn his loss.

THE SHAMROCK LEAGUE.

ONE OF MANY ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.

55, Union Road, Nottingham,
March 18th, 1901.

DEAR LADY CLERVE.—The shamrock arrived safely this evening "fresh and fair as the daughters of Erin."

I am very much obliged to you for sending it so promptly. With regard to the box nothing could be prettier. It was not damaged at all in transit. I am going to preserve it as a souvenir of the occasion. I only hope that the total sum which will be realised will be substantial, and therefore worthy of the object in view, which is most laudable.

I have the honour to remain, yours very sincerely,

EUGENE J. O'MULLANE, M.A.C.P.I.,
(a Mallow man).

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

Sunday last being St. Patrick's Day, the shamrock was most generally worn in the city by representatives of every class and creed. The Union Jack floated from over the tower of St. Mary's Cathedral. The day was fine and as genial as could be expected in the month of March. Cases of "drowning the shamrock" were extremely rare, and it was a highly creditable and gratifying circumstance that there was not a single charge of intoxication on the Police Court books yesterday morning. Several entertainments were held in the city on Sunday evening. At the Athenaeum, under the auspices of the "Daughters of Erin" Association, a very able and exhaustive lecture was delivered by the Rev. P. P. Kavanagh, O.S.F., on "Patriotism—True and False." There was also a Concert, the program consisting of Irish music. The St. Mary's Temperance Society gave an entertainment at the County Courthouse, and the Rev. J. Murphy, C.C., delivered a very interesting lecture on "Irish Music." The St. Michael's Rowing Club gave a very attractive Concert and Variety Entertainment at their rooms, Lower Cecil street.

£500 WANTS AN OWNER.

Although she had nearly 2,400 dols. in two banks, Mrs. Mary Clune, eighty years old, died alone and unattended on March 2, in the wretched apartments at No. 182 Madison street, New York, which she had occupied for nearly forty years.

Patrick Clune brought her there when they were married. Twelve years ago he was taken to the insane asylum on Ward's Island.

Mrs. Clune worked daily in a shirt factory. Her only friend was Mrs. Michael Eagan, who lived on the floor below and who found her dead.

The police decided that death was caused by old age and neglect. They found in her ragged clothing two bank books showing deposits of 2,353.00. One was started in 1860.

DEATH OF MR. CHARLES CARRICK, V.S.

His many friends in Limerick heard with very sincere regret of the demise of Mr. Charles Carrick V.S., youngest son of the late Mr. Charles Carrick, of this city, which sad event took place at Clontarf on the 14th instant. The deceased, who was only in his 30th year, had been for several years connected with the Veterinary Department at Dublin Castle, and was for some time attached to the British forces in South Africa. He was of a most kindly and generous disposition, and made for himself hosts of friends wherever he went. His premature demise is deeply mourned by all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. The remains were removed to Limerick for interment, and the funeral which left St. Michael's R.C. Church for Mount St. Laurence Cemetery at ten o'clock on Sunday, was large and representative. The chief mourners were—Mr. T. M. Carrick (brother), Master C. Carrick (nephew), Mr. Maurice O'Regan, head master T.M. Model School (brother-in-law). Amongst the general public were—Messrs. S. ## SOCIAL FUNCTIONS AT KILRUSH.

The Amusement Committee of the Kilrush Workingmen's Club gave their annual subscription dance in the Market House on Saturday night, and the function proved in all respects most enjoyable. Dancing was kept up vigorously from nine o'clock, p.m., until 6.30 the following morning. The popularity of this "Hardy Annual" may be gleaned from the fact that the admission cards were all sold out ten days prior to the affair. The rooms were effectively decorated, evergreens, flags, banners, model harps and stage scenery being utilised in the scheme. There were about sixty couples in attendance. During the intervals songs were contributed by Mr. Batt, Culligan, Mr. P. Mescall, Mr. H. Cahill, and Mr. Morrissey, which met with great favour, and the step dancing of Mr. McCarthy, Kilmihil, evoked great enthusiasm. The committee, Mr. W. McInerney, Mr. O'Shea, Mr. M. O'Dea, Mr. Willie O'Brien, Mr. John Moloney, and the capable hon. secretary, Mr. Curran, are to be congratulated on the delightful result of their efforts, and were severally and collectively thanked by the guests before leaving.
