A SCOTCH PUNISHMENT OF OLDEN TIMES.
Edinburgh, June 16. The trial of Mr. John er and Arch. M'Callum closed yesterday ing at three o'clock. The Jury were inclosed een five and six, and returned their verdict day at one o'clock, finding the said persons y, as far as concerns the Brigantine Endeav-They are sentenced to stand on the pillory lasgow, on Wednesday, the 28th of July, for space of one hour, with a rope about each of necks, and bareheaded, with the following affixed to their breasts:—"Here stand John er and Archibald M'Callum, infamous per-who did wickedly procure holes to be bored o ship the Endeavour, in order to sink the e, and thereby to defraud the Underwriters. y are also banished Scotland for life, and in of their return, to be imprisoned for one and to be publicly whipped on the first uesday of every month during the said im-onment."—From the Limerick Chronicle of y 1st, 1784.

DIRECT LABOUR.

According to a statement elicited from the ief Secretary in the House of Commons, County l District Councils may after the passing into of the Local Government Provisional Order, ich will be done this week, proceed to formu-e schemes for the employment of direct labour m the commencement of the coming financial r, April 1st, 1902.

INTIMIDATION IN IRELAND.

The Irish Unionists intend to-morrow to raise in mmittee of Supply on the Irish votes a debate the recrudescence of boycotting and intiman in Ireland, which they allege to be due to e operations of Mr. W. O'Brien's United Irish ague. Meanwhile further questions are to be t to the Chief Secretary, calling attention to e cases which afford evidence on this subject.

"LALLA ROOKH."

Lalla Rookh Cottage, at Muswell Hill, has been object of much interest on the part of visitors the Alexandra Palace since its opening. It rives its name from the fact that Moore resided it in the year 1819, when he composed and gave the world his famous poem, which not only ought him a cheque for £3,000 from the Messrs.

THE CITY HIGH SHERIFF.

The Newbridge College Magazine, which is a beautifully printed and excellently got up issue, publishes among the portraits of some of its past members that of Mr. J. F. Barry, the City High Sheriff. Of him the Magazine says: "He signalised himself in every athletic exercise, and in that line his splendid physique enabled him to be facile princeps among the students of St. Thomas's.
On the stage at the annual College plays, Mr.
Barry was also a prominent figure. His fine voice and histrionic powers gave him a pre-eminence which augured the distinction he has since achieved." The other contents of the magazine are varied and excellent, the illustrations beautiful, and a special feature is the first illustrated story ever published in Irish.

THE SHOCKING STREET FATALITY.

Mr Coroner DeCourcy, held an inquest yesterday on the body of James Enright, Athlunkard street, aged 61 years, who was killed the previous afternoon in George street by a runaway horse.
Sergeant Murray, Edward street, conducted the inquiry on behalf of the police.

Evidence as to the purely accidental nature of the occurrence having been given,

Dr. M'Grath, Resident Surgeon, Barrington's Hospital, deposed that deceased only lived for a few minutes after being brought to hospital. The injuries were so numerous and so severe that death would as a consequence follow shortly after the occurrence.

The Jury returned a verdict that deceased met his death through injuries sustained accidentally.

The driver of the cart who was thrown during the progress of the runaway animal, is detained in hospital owing to his injuries.

LIMERICK FARMER'S SAD DEATH.

A respectable farmer named Edmund Sexton, residing at Templeglantine, Abbeyfeale, while driving a horse and cart home from Newcastle was endeavouring to readjust the back band of the harness, which became detached, when the horse became restive and ran away, trampling and striking him with the shaft of the car and inflicting such injuries as resulted fatally on Tuesday morning. Deceased was about 40 years of age, and leaves a wife and family. His death has caused many expressions of regret.

THE GAS COMMITTEE VACANCY.

Tuesday was the last day for receiving nominations for the vacancy created on the Gas Committee by the resignation of Mr. James Ellis Goodbody. The only nomination was that of Mr.
Wm. Holliday of the firm of Messrs J. and G.
