VOTE OF SYMPATHY.

At Adare Petty Sessions to-day the presiding magistrate, The Hon. J. French, R.M., said as this was the first Court they had since the death of Lady Fitzgerald, he would adjourn the Court to next month as a mark of respect to the deceased lady, and in doing so he wisher to express his deep sympathy for the Earl and Countess of Dunraven and the Knight of Glin, in the irreparable loss they had sustained.

FATALITY TO A WEST LIMERICK COACHMAN

On Saturday evening an accident, attended with intal results, occurred in the farmyard of Mr. Edmond Moroney, J.P. O'Dellville House, to John Ryan, aged about 60 years, who for over 30 years had occupied the position of coachman to that gentleman. A number of employees were engaged with a machine threshing corn, and during the course of operations the unfortunate man proceeded to rectify a portion of the machinery that had become unsteady. In doing so his clothes became entangled in the revolving con-nections, and his neck and spine sustained such fearful injuries that resulted in his death on Sunday evening. The greatest sympathy is felt for the bereaved family, who enjoy the respect and esteem of all classes.

SCARCITY OF LABOUR IN WEST LIMERICK.

A correspondent writes: - Notwithstanding everything that has been put forward in support of the Labour cause the abject condition of the labourers of this district presents as discouraging and acute ferm of helplessness at the present time as at any previous period of labour depression in West Limerick. It is a matter of common know-ledg that the majority of the labourers, particuledg that the majority of the labourers, particularly the agricultural labourers, have scarcely earned two days wages for the past three months. The absence of any kind of employment has required the working class to a state bordering on privation and want, and has greated such serious depression amongst the podrer section of the community as requires the initiediate consideration of the Agricultural Board if worse consequences are to be avoided.
