

ROFORM WITHOUT DANGER.

Medical Society at its last meeting discussed an invention which has been a time by the best-known surgeons in the greatest success. Dr. Wohl instructed an apparatus by which he chloroformed without the great trouble connected with it. The patient during the operation the face does not change after returning to consciousness none of the usual after-effects of chloroform narcosis. The method has been tried in several cases.

THE JUDGE OF PORT.

It is recalled by a contemporary of a judge whose taste for port is well known. In a circuit, he was given refreshment by a sheriff who is famous for his cellars. Several bottles of the best and oldest were placed before the connoisseur. The sheriff buttonholed another guest, a friend of the judge, and asked his lordship had enjoyed the port. He replied the other, "what you would do right and conscientious a judge to do. I will all patiently and punished them."

GAS COMMITTEE.—Mr. Wm. Holliday has at the request of a number of influential citizens consented to allow himself to be nominated for the vacancy on the Gas Committee caused by the resignation of Mr. J. Ellis Goodbody. Mr. Holliday would make an excellent member, and it is likely he will be elected unanimously.

THE LATE QUEEN'S MEMORIAL.—The following ladies have joined the Memorial Committee, which was appointed at the meeting at Dublin Castle, to raise an endowment fund to the memory of Queen Victoria on behalf of the Queen Victoria Institute for Nurses. Catherine Duchess of Westminster, Lady Mary Howard, Lady Elizabeth Biddulph, and Viscountess Baring.

CRESCENT COLLEGE SPORTS.—The Rector and Management of the Sports Committee desire to offer their sincere thanks to the following, who helped materially to the success of the meeting:—Sir Thomas Cleave for the loan of the engine and arc lamps, Messrs O'Connor and Co. for the dynamo, Messrs Goodbody (per Mr. O'Toole) for the loan of sacks and lorry for convenience of goods, Messrs Cannock and Co., Todd and Co., and Messrs McCarthy, George street, for the loan of chairs, and Messrs Murphy, Brewers, Cork, for the large tent.

DEATH OF AN AQUATIC TRAINER.

POSTPONEMENT OF THE BOAT CLUB RACES.

The death took place this afternoon, after two days' illness, of Mr. Stuart, trainer to the Limerick Boat Club. Mr. Stuart contracted a severe attack of pleurisy, and when medical aid was called in it was found to be too late. Mr. Stuart was a Cambridge University oarsman of merit, and made his debut as a professional when he accepted the appointment in Limerick. The members of the Limerick Boat Club deeply sympathise with Mrs. Stuart who has been telegraphed for. The Club lose the services of a most capable trainer who had proved himself most efficient since his engagement some weeks ago, and who had earned the admiration and esteem of all his new acquaintances. This evening the flag at the Boathouse was lowered to half-mast, and in consequence of Mr. Stuart's death the Club Scratch Races, which were to have taken place this evening, have been postponed.

NEW MILITARY ENCAMPING GROUND.

It is understood that the military authorities have taken ground at Castlepark, the property of Mr. J. O'G. Delmege, D.L., for the purpose of summer drills, prior to going to Kilworth Camp. This site is particularly suited for military training. The Yorkshire Regiment will occupy their new encamping ground this year during the month of June.

ENNIS UNION.

upon with a great amount of interest forward to with a great amount. Their meetings were now small, over again the reason had been explained. The explanation was this, that the prosperous, and went along so smoothly work of organization, that the publisher it was necessary for them to large numbers to support it by the it should go abroad that the difficulties, that a hitch had taken working, there was no doubt in that that Hall would be just a used to be thirty years ago. A perhaps further back—he remembered for forty years—that Hall used to be on that platform appeared men of who came there from various par lift up the people in their heart towards this Society by appealing financial facilities. Well, that day his Lordship thought they must eloquence had not the same days that it used to have in. They had become a more intelligent people. They liked to get a clear and practical statement with very much more than eloquence. On these occasions it was a matter almost the same ideas which were. He remembered a friend of his own many years ago, who was called a large annual meeting of the Society him (his Lordship) that he had spent less nights in endeavouring to discuss ideas he might bring before than he was unable to discover anything. This Society was progressing in a factory manner. It looked after the protected them at a time when necessary they should protect members of their church. New time when it was more necessary not say any more than look after the young members Church, to see that they were interested in religion; that their temporal interests after, and that they were in every from assaults that might be made (hear, hear). Well the report was a most satisfactory one. orphans on the list on the 1st. During the last year, unfortunately orphans died. Such an amount not taken place in the a long period. They saw children present in the room that they were and how well they were (hear). His Lordship congratulated the fact that the income last year expenditure by about £71, notwithstanding the Bazaar had been given up from the Parochial and Diocesan increased, so that on the whole they be grateful, and he thought they largely due to their worthy secret as one could take a greater interest the Society (hear, hear). Capt began the report by thanking God to the Society. He (the Bishop) that struck the keynote, and they thankful to God for the provision extended to the Society for (applause).

THE ANNUAL REPORT.

The Archdeacon then read the follows:—

"SIXTY-EIGHTH ANNUAL
