After the ceremony a sumptuous déjeuner was partaken of at a residence of the bride's father. The happy pair left for London on the honeymoon at 11 o'clock amid the congratulations of their friends.

A DETERMINED WOMAN.

In the Chancery Division on Tuesday, before the Master of the Rolls, a case of Scanlan v. Scanlan as mentioned.

Mr. T. H. Maxwell (instructed by Messrs. A. D. Kennedy and Son, and Figgis) applied that the defendant should be committed for contempt in trespassing on the lands of Tunnyhinnell, near Lisowal, in disobedience of an order of the Court, made on the 26th November last. There was an affidavit that the defendant had trespassed, and was warned several times since the service of an injunction order, she stated her intention of continuing to do so.

The Master of the Rolls said he had no option but to make the order. However, he hoped it would not be executed if the defendant ceased to give trouble.

SODA WATER BOTTLE TRADE.

MINERAL WATER MANUFACTURERS AT LAW.

To-day at the Limerick Quarter Sessions, before Judge Adams, Mr. Patrick Toomey, Upper William-street, mineral water manufacturer, sought to recover the sum of £10 from Mr. Matthew McNamara, Sexton-street, mineral water manufacturer, trading as P. Ryan, damages sustained by reason of the defendant converting to his own use in the present year a quantity of bottles marked with plaintiff's name, and used same for his own trade, and infringing plaintiff's trade description by using said bottles in defendant's trade, and plaintiff claimed an injunction against defendant from further using his bottles.

The plaintiff, in reply to reply to his solicitor, Mr. Doyle, said that these bottles bore his embossed name, and were being kept out by the defendant, who used his paper label on them.

The defendant said that his solicitor, Mr. Counihan, who was not present, had counsel engaged in this case, which he (defendant) was told would not be heard till next sessions.

His Honor remarked that a decision was given in a similar case to this in the Superior Court, two or three days ago, and as counsel was engaged in this case it should stand until next sessions, when he would give the earliest possible opportunity of hearing it.

The case was accordingly adjourned.

At the opening of the court on Wednesday, the magistrates present being Mr. F. Fitzgerald, R.M., (Chairman), Lord Fermoy, Mr. John Van Bevan, Lord Fermoy was sworn on the bench under the new Commission, by the Resident Magistrate.

Mr. Bevan said before the business of the court commenced he wished to say that personally he regretted the transfer of Mr. Dickson. He then read the following resolution of the magistrates:—"Resolved—That we, the magistrates now assembled at Bruff Petty Sessions, wish to express our regret at the departure of our late chairman, Mr. John M. Dickson, from amongst us. He has ... night. Head Constable Reaney described the prisoner's conduct in the police cell as very bad. She was fined 40s or one month's imprisonment, and ordered to find bail for 12 months or in default a further term of three months' imprisonment.

THE NATIONAL BANK.—We are very glad to hear that the Directors of the National Bank have cancelled the order for the transfer of Mr. Wm. DeCourcy from Limerick to Tralee. The news will be heard of with great pleasure by the customers of the Bank who never failed to find Mr. DeCourcy courteous and affable, as well as by a wide circle of friends in this city where he has resided for many years.

"IRISH CHURCH DIRECTORY": We have received a copy of the Irish Church Directory and Year Book of the Church of Ireland for 1902. It is nicely got up, and contains the fullest particulars of everything pertaining to the church. Its compilation must have involved enormous labour, but a close examination shows the work to have been thoroughly well done. Some idea of the scope of the book may be gleaned from the list of contents. Part 1 consists of a chronological calendar and lectionary for 1902, and in Part 2 will be found particulars of the Bishops and Clergy of the Church of Ireland; Clerical Obituary for 1901; St. Patrick's (National) Cathedral, Dublin; Diocesan and Parochial Directory; Chaplains to the Lord Lieutenant; Chaplains to the Forces in Ireland; Index to Incumbencies; Succession of Bishops of the Church of Ireland; Guide to Ordination; hooks proper to the several Degrees.

A FURTHER BURNING FATALITY.

It is a curious and sad circumstance that within the past fortnight some four or five deaths of children from burns accidentally received have occurred in Limerick. The latest is that of John Flannery, aged one and a half years, who was admitted into Barrington's Hospital on Tuesday, suffering from severe burns on the body and face. The child had been sitting near the fire with some other children, in his parents' house in Broad street, and during the temporary absence of the mother in another room he fell into the fire. The mother at once came to the rescue, and in extricating him was herself somewhat burnt. The child died this morning.

SHOP ASSISTANTS' UNION.

MEETING IN LIMERICK.

A public meeting, under the auspices of the Shop Assistants' Union, was held last night in the Town Hall, Mr. R. P. O'Connor presided, and there was a good attendance.

Mr. John Turner (organiser), on behalf of the Amalgamated Union of Shop Assistants, Warehousemen, and Clerks, was present.

The Chairman, in the course of his remarks, urged the adoption of the principle of trades-unionism amongst shop assistants, and briefly referred to the benefits to which members of the Shop Assistants' Union were entitled in the event of illness or non-employed (unlucky).

Mr. Ryan deposed that he told the pugilist to give the horse some powder, and that he was strong enough to work.

To His Honor: Witnesses own opinion that if the horse got enough to eat he was all right. It would be true to say in a way that the horse was fit to work.

His Honor dismissed the action.

ENJOINMENT.

In this case the action was brought by Patrick O'Malley against John Dunn, golden, on account of non payment for sold.

Mr P. G. O'Donnell, appeared for the plaintiff and Mr Doyle for the defendant.

The defence was that the house belonged to defendant's wife, she having taken it out from Mr. Madigan before her marriage.

The evidence for the plaintiff showed that defendant had leased in his own name, and paid the rent.

His Honor said he would give a decree.

The Court adjourned till Saturday morning.

REMOVAL FROM THE BURGESS LIST.

COMPLAINT BY MR. HALL, J.

To-day, at the Quarter Sessions,

Mr. Ambrose Hall, J.P., addressing his Honor Judge Adams, said his name had been omitted from the Burgess roll without his having intimation of it, or being served with a notice, and of this he was not aware until the elections, when he went in the ordinary course of vote. He was then told that he had no vote thereupon went to Mr. Beauchamp's office and found that his name had been rubbed off the list by his Honor. He (Mr. Hall) then went to the Town Clerk, and was told that the list was at the Courthouse, and that it was his Honor that struck out the name, as there was a double entry. The Town Clerk also said that the law was now changed in connection with the matter. He (Mr. Hall), however, replied that he was not, as his name had been on the list in 1899 and 1900. He was then told that his name was on the list of freemen; but that it was different from the Burgess roll. He then wanted to know if his Honor would fix a date for the rehearing of this.

His Honor said that the complaint had been made by Mr. Hall, had also been made by other gentlemen—Mr. J. F. Power, Mr. J. Shaw—all of whom had disappeared from the list. What Mr. Hall had said was right. His Honor sat there in court, and went through several thousand names, and not, of course, recollect whether there was a double entry or not. He would hear the case at 10 o'clock on Saturday, and would be obliged to the Town Clerk attended for the purpose.

Mr. Hall remarked that there was a candidate, and one of the candidates got in on the list, whereas if he had his vote there would have been a double entry (laughter).

His Honor said that there was most trouble cast upon persons by the application of the Local Government Acts. A bill had been passed amending each other, and there were numerous other orders besides. They were up in such a slovenly manner that it was disgraceful to an attorney's clerk if he drew up a similar way a marriage settlement by the corner boy's son and a pickpocket's daughter.

ALLEGED LARCENY.

To-day, at the Police Court, before Mr. John M. Dickson, R.M., a man named Michael Carmichael was brought up in custody charged with the theft of a gold watch and chain, the property of Patrick Ryan. It appeared from the depositions that the accused went in and had his room in a bedroom, and it is alleged that
