

ters. Here and about the floor One of them, of what I have rule the less use fuss it makes. an on, noiseless he Lilliputian d, and fized and ly had a work to about the doing ittle shelf a tiny the rate of 1,750 ver a noise, and the eye could ying the power, onster could not s or cranks in a this tiny thing hich ignited the h the same way e ordinary gas orces the power- the power which actory, the mill, n that of the the aid of Mr. the public what does. I am no are as Gropian seems to have er ends, or at the ect. So to Mr. e tells me that e known as the , and I bethink ame to conjure ing brakes on the od in mechanics. ower.

realise what this n to do a little se power" is a one foot high a minute. 33,000 y 112 shows the ese machines are te every minute ion. Archimedes without his lever, onsters, and a few start them.

is checked by my ach of these three cyclinder engine, 120°, and which, s, even, and non- rs revolve in a by splashing into e, thus ensuring e machinery. I here is nothing nism to be seen. l up, but I will apks move and t 260 revolutions the of a splutter le steam pumper their foot. The drive and which s brushes, and e the current are to 144 amperes, ts, an ampere re- current, and the ch the current is anything like a detailed and scientific description of the work would be impossible in the space at my disposal; but if what I have said is the means of attracting attention to our latest developmen', and of convincing our people that though we are waiting long those powerful lights to see, it is not an unreasonable wait, considering the magnitude of the work, the diffic' had to be overcome, and the thorough manner in which the work is being carried on by the staff, whose labours are now fast nearing a conclusion. If I might suggest it, I would suggest that on a day to be set aside for the purpose, the works should be thrown open to all who cared to visit, and that Mr. Raine, or Mr. Baker, should be asked to explain what the system is, and how it works. I am sure it would be most interesting, as it was to CORIQUE.

EVERY CHILD born with an inherited tendency to distressing, disfiguring humours of the skin, scalp, and blood becomes an object of the most tender solicitude, not only because of its suffering, but because of the dreadful fear that the disfiguration is to be lifelong and mar its future happiness and prosperity. Hence it becomes the duty of mothers of such afflicted children to acquaint themselves with the best, the purest, and most effective treatment available, viz.,

The Cuticura Treatment, consisting of warm baths with CUTICURA SOAP and gentle anointings with CUTICURA OINTMENT, purest of emollients and greatest of all skin cures. Send for "The Skin Book," F. Newbery & Sons, 17 Charterhouse Sq., London.

CITY BATHING FATALITY.

An inquest was held at the New Barracks yesterday afternoon on the body of Private James Eldan, who was drowned while bathing in the Shannon, near the King's Island, on Tuesday afternoon. The jury found a verdict of accidental death, and commended the action of his comrade, Private Jones, who made a plucky effort to save him, at considerable risk to his own life.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS are the best, cheapest, and most popular remedies at all seasons, and under all circumstances they may be used with safety, and with the certainty of doing good. Eruptions, rashes, and all descriptions of skin diseases, sores, ulcerations, and burns are quickly benefited, and ultimately cured by these healing, soothing and purifying medicaments. The Ointment rubbed upon the abdomen checks all tendency to irritation in the bowels, and averts diarrhoea and other disorders of the intestines frequently prevailing through the summer and fruit of the kitchen, but

LEMCO

is her

Prime Minister.

FUNERAL OF MR. WM. BALL.

The funeral of an old and highly esteemed citizen, Mr. Wm. Ball, took place yesterday morning from his residence, Mount St. Vincent Terrace. Mr. Ball had been connected with the firm of Messrs Cannock and Company for close on a quarter of a century, for many years of which he was buyer in the flannel, linen, and calico department. He was an excellent business man, and his unvarying courtesy and genial manner won for him the highest regard of a wide circle of friends in commercial as well as private life. He had been in failing health for some time past, and his death at the age of 68 years is sincerely mourned by all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. The funeral, which took place St. Munchin's, was very large and representative. Mr. David Tidmarsh, Chairman of Cannock and Co.; Mr. P. R. Toppin, Managing Director; Mr. Wm. Walsh, Secretary, and the entire staff of the firm (which was closed during the funeral), as well as numerous representatives of the other drapery establishments in town were present. The chief mourners were—Mr. James McKenzie, Limerick, Mr. W. Cullen, Newport (sons-in-law); Mr. C. H. Griffin, Dublin (brother-in-law), and Mr. George Cullen, Newport. The clergy present were—Rev. J. T. Waller, and Rev. C. Thompson (Trinity Church), and the Rev. J. Dowd and Rev. T. B. Robertson. A large number of wreaths was sent by friends.

Irritability

flies before the cheering and sustaining natural tonic properties of a glass of

Sedna,

Only those who have tried it know the virtue that lies in