Tubridy, Mrs. Cunningham, Dr. O'Meehan, Mr. Wm. Holliday, etc.

The beautiful oak casket which was covered with handsome wreaths sent by the family (there being none from friends) was borne from the house to the hearse, and again to the church by some of the principal officials of the Messrs. Cleeve.

The officiating clergymen were the Rev. F. B. Robertson, and Rev. H. Orpen. The remains of the deceased lady were laid to rest beside those of her late husband, in a grave lined with that touching emblem of love and remembrance—the ivy leaf.

Messrs. Todd and Co., carried out the funeral arrangements.

THE WAR

REVERSES FOR JAPAN.

(By Telegraph Today.)

St. Petersburg, Tuesday.

An unconfirmed report from Port Arthur states that the Japanese lost eight fireships and two torpedo boats last night while approaching the Harbour to lay mines.

Tientsin, Tuesday.

The Russian officials here have been informed that the Japanese merchant vessels have been sunk off Port Arthur clear of the entrance.

LOSSES ON BOTH SIDES.

The losses of the Japanese at Sunday's battle on the Yalu is 700 killed and wounded, while the Russians are reported to have lost 800 besides a number of officers and men taken prisoners and 28 quick-firing guns.

SETTING A TOWN ON FIRE.

The Russians abandoned Antung, an important seaboard town at the entrance to the Yalu, on Sunday, setting the town on fire before they retired.

Antung, which the Russians burned and then abandoned, is an important town on the seaboard at the entrance to the estuary of the Yalu and its capture will greatly strengthen the position of the Japanese.

Fenhuancheng, to which the Russians retired, is about 50 miles inland from Antung, on the main road which joins the railway on the western side of the peninsula at Liaoyang.

WAR ITEMS.

The Emir of Bokhara has given the sum of 1 million roubles for increasing the Russian fleet.

The time fixed for the departure of the Russian Baltic Squadron for the Far East is fixed for some date between July 15th and August 1st.

A report is current in St. Petersburg that the Czar will go to the front during the summer.

The Japanese are reported to have captured Kiu-lien-cheng, the key of the Russian position on the right bank of the Yalu. It is expected the Russians will retreat to Fong-Wang-Chong. The Japanese began the attack on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. They forced the crossing of the Wu on Saturday and on Sunday night turned the Russian left flank. The general attack began at dawn on Sunday, the gunboats co-operating.

SOUTHERN NIGERIA.

A BRUSH WITH THE NATIVES.

(By Telegraph To-day.)

Bonny, April 8th.

A well equipped column 250 strong, under Major Trenchard, one of the three columns engaged in the pacifying country between the Niger and Cross Rivers with the object of opening up to the commerce of Southern Nigeria Hinterland, had a stubborn encounter with the natives of Ohoho beyond Egwanga, and up the Eno River. The natives, who had been levying toll and menacing trade, lost two hundred killed and wounded. The British casualties were four natives killed and seven wounded. Six villages were burned.

ANTI-SEMITIC FEELING.

JUDGE ADAMS' GOOD ADVICE.

At the adjourned Quarter Sessions, Max J. Blond, Jewish dealer, 60 Henry street, sued James Cahilly, Ballylough, for £13s. 2d., amount due for goods sold and delivered, within the past six years on foot of an account.

Mr. T. H. Kenny, solr., appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. J. S. Gaffney, solr., for the defendant.

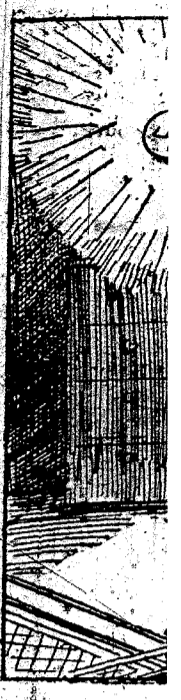

The plaintiff produced his books showing the dealings that had taken place between defendant's wife and himself.

Mr. Kenny said objection was never made to pay until recently.

To the Court—Business transactions which the defendant was aware of took place between plaintiff and Mrs. Cahilly, while defendant was at home.

His Honor—Mrs. Cahilly did not say to you that her husband was not aware of these transactions.

The plaintiff was proceeding to answer the question, when Mr. Gaffney intervened. He said Blond was very well known in the city. Mr. Kenny protested against Mr. Gaffney's insinuation. His Honor—Let us not add fuel to fire. Let us conduct this case as if there was no trouble in the
